Final BULLETINS

5 From Howard Plane Rescued

LISBON (AP)—A Rome radio message rebroadcast from Madrid said late today a Spanish fishing boat had rescued five Britons from the Britain-bound airliner shot down on Tuesday over the Bay of Biscay.

The survivors were taken from a rubber life raft, the message said.

They were not identified in this dispatch.

(A Madrid dispatch broadcast by the Berlin radio and recorded by the Associated Press, said the Spanish fishing steamer Evaristo Nunez had picked up six British airmen whose machine had been shot down shortly before. Whether their craft was a passenger liner or combat plane was not specified.)

(This account, which moved through enemy propaganda channels, said the fishing boat had been attacked by other British planes some hours before and after the rescue.)

Blast Rocks Plant

CUMBERLAND, Md. (AP)—A terrific explosion rocked one section of the Celanese Corporation of America's plant here this afternoon and every available ambulance in the city was immediately called to the scene.

Last Quad Dies

CHELTENHAM, Eng. (CP)—The last of quadruplets born Tuesday to Mrs. Doris Court died today. Two girls and a boy died shortly after birth and the other boy lived but two days.

Russians Launch New Offensive

LONDON (CP)—The German radio tonight said the Russian army had opened a new offensive in the area of Teryuk, on the Taman peninsula of the Caucasus 50 miles north of Novorossisk, with the aim of dividing the German forces holding the narrow Caucasus bridgehead.

The radio, quoting the German news agency DNE, said the new drive was launched "without letting up in the Kuban attacks in the vicinity of Krimskaya," which lies between Teryuk and Novorossisk.

Recruiting Slows

Canadian Active Army enlistments for May in Military District No. 11 (B.C.) totaled 453, compared with 531 in April and 708 in May, 1942, it was announced today. This does not include C.W.A.C. enlistments.

Since Jan. 1, 1943, there have been 3,085 enlistments in this district—295 less than the same period last year.

Liquor Prices Zoom

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sky-rocketing liquor prices in the United States prompted the Office of Price Administration today to seek an improved program of price control. O.P.A. called on all owners of brands of distilled spirits to file by July 9 complete data on prices, and to describe the method by which they established their ceilings.

Discuss Steel Mill

VANCOUVER (CP)—Hon. E. C. Carson, B.C. Minister of Mines, consulted today with Ald. Jack Price, chairman of the semi-public steel committee, regarding his recent interview with Munitions Minister Howe in Ottawa concerning priorities for the establishment of a rolling mill here. Mr. Price, who returned by plane today, refused to discuss his interview with the minister.

Chaplin Sued

LOS ANGELES (AP)—A paternity suit was filed in superior court today charging that film comedian Charles Chaplin is the father of the unborn child of Joan Berry, 23, movie aspirant who was jailed recently after a disturbance at the actor's home. The suit was filed by the young woman's mother, Mrs. Gertrude E. Berry, as guardian for the unborn child. The suit asks $10,000 for prenatal care, $5,000 court costs and $2,500 per month for support of the unborn infant.

Chinese Drive To Yangtse River

CHUNGKING (AP)—Chinese troops have driven to the right bank of the Yangtse opposite Ichang in an air-supported counter-offensive against the Japanese and have surrounded 4,000 of the invaders farther down the great river, the high command announced Thursday night.

A Chinese army spokesman said Generalissimo Chiang Kai-shek's forces Wednesday recaptured the town of Changyang, 12 miles south of Ichang, and also occupied the port of Chinkiang, 35 miles downriver from that Japanese base.

The high command issued a special communique to keep abreast of developments in the counterthrusts against the routed enemy shock troops.

Cross Border, Surround Kungan

It said Chinese driving northward from Hunan province crossed the border into southern Hupeh and surrounded Kungan, another of the bases for the abortive Japanese push against defenses of the upper Yangtse. Kungan lies 70 miles southeast of Ichang.

Japanese troops are being driven back toward the south bank of the river on the whole Upper Yangtse front, the spokesman added.

He said the Japanese had used altogether about 100,000 troops in the battle and that they had suffered about 30,000 casualties.

Recapture of Changyang represents an advance of about 20 miles for the Chinese troops since they regained Yuyangkwan last Saturday.

The occupation of Chinkiang, the spokesman said, menaced Japanese communications with Ichang. Japanese positions south of the Yangtse now form an arc extending from a point less than 15 miles west of Ichang to Lihshien in Hunan province.

The Chinese announced Wednesday that they had regained three towns above Lihshien and said the retreating Japanese in this area had been surrounded and many had been wiped out.

(The Tokyo radio, in a broadcast recorded by the Associated Press in London, quoted an official Japanese statement today as saying operations in central China had been "successfully concluded, and all Japanese forces who participated have been brought back to their bases." The statement said the operations, which were brought to an end Monday, took place on a front 190 miles long and 63 miles deep, stretching from Tungting Lake to the Yangtse River and the fortified town of Ichang. The 10th Chinese army and other forces were "annihilated," the broadcast added.)

The Chinese military spokesman said the Japanese originally started the drive with between 70,000 and 80,000 troops, but reinforcements from Hankow and Yochow brought their total to 100,000.

He said the enemy's campaign was well planned, but collapsed suddenly because the invaders committed the "tactical blunder" of allowing the Chinese to entice them into a mountainous area, where they were dealt an "annihilating blow."

What is referred to here as the "Chinese battle of Stalingrad" was fought around Shihpei, a strongly fortified area west of Ichang, where the defenders had orders to resist to the last. The Japanese were unable to use their tanks and big guns in the mountains and were placed at a "very great disadvantage," the Chinese spokesman said.

Edsel Ford Bequests Divide $200,000,000

Henry Ford (second from right) and his wife arriving at the Grosse Pointe Christ Church, Detroit, Mich., to attend funeral services for their son, Edsel Ford, late president of the Ford Motor Co.

DETROIT (AP)—The will of Edsel Ford was filed for probate today and, because it bequeaths the greater part of his Ford Motor Company stock to the Ford Foundation, attorneys estimate estate inheritance and transfer taxes may not amount to much more than $12,000,000.

Attorneys say the estate itself probably will amount to $200,000,000.

Edsel Ford, only son of Henry Ford, and late president of the Ford Motor Company, died last week.

The Ford Foundation, a non-profit corporation, was organized in 1936 for educational and other purposes. Gifts to organizations of its type are not taxable.

That portion of the Ford stock not bequeathed to the foundation is left in equal shares to Mrs. Eleanor Clay Ford, the widow; and each of the four children—Henry Ford II, Benson Ford, Mrs. Walter Buhl Ford II and William Clay Ford. The widow is made executrix.

King Views Work of Dam-Busters

Peering through a magnifying device, King George is shown studying reconnaissance photographs of the vast destruction wrought by the bombing of dams in the Eder and Ruhr valleys of Germany. The King was visiting the headquarters of the R.A.F. outfit which had accomplished the exploit, and standing next to him is Wing Cmdr. Gibson, V.C. (Radiophoto).

Czech President in Ottawa

Benes Predicts Nazi Collapse

OTTAWA (CP)—Dr. Eduard Benes, President of Czechoslovakia, said here this afternoon he expects the collapse of Germany will come next winter or shortly after, and that an Allied victory in the Pacific will follow rapidly.

He told questioners at a press conference that he believes his country's pre-Munich boundaries will be restored after the war, but added that Czechoslovakia will be ready to discuss this problem with the United Nations.

Here for a three-day visit, Dr. Benes held a press conference as his first official act, soon after his arrival in Ottawa. Later he addressed members of the House of Commons and the Senate.

He said this is his first visit to Canada—a country which had won the admiration of the democratic world for its contribution in armed forces and munitions to the common cause of the United Nations.

Dissolution of the Russian Third Internationale should contribute importantly to removal of certain suspicions existing among the United Nations and aid collaboration now and after the war, said Dr. Benes.

Questioned on his ideas of the war's end, Dr. Benes said he could be wrong, but felt it was his duty and responsibility as a statesman to have some opinion on which plans could be based.

Important events in Czechoslovakia would follow immediately on the collapse of Germany and he believed his people should be ready for that collapse after next winter.

Nazi Marshal Sent To the Balkans

LONDON (CP)—A Tass dispatch from Istanbul said tonight Hitler had ordered Field Marshal Gen. Siegmund Wilhelm List back to the Balkans, apparently in an effort to tighten defenses and to quell defections among wavering satellite nations.

List, who led the invasion of Yugoslavia, Greece and Crete in the spring of 1941, was last reported to have replaced Field Marshal-Gen. Fedor von Bock on the southern front in Russia. Tass said List was reported to have joined Heinrich Himmler, German police chief, and Marshal Erwin Rommel in the Balkans.

Roosevelt Orders Miners to Resume Work Monday

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Roosevelt this afternoon ordered the striking coal miners to return to their jobs next Monday.

He said in a statement that he had instructed Interior Secretary Harold Ickes, who had possession of the mines for the government, to proceed to reopen them. They have been closed since Tuesday on the refusal of John L. Lewis' United Mine Workers to work without a contract.

"Just as soon as the miners return to work," Mr. Roosevelt said, "the disposition of the dispute between the miners and the operators will forthwith proceed, under the jurisdiction of the War Labor Board, and in accordance with the customary and established procedures governing all cases of this sort."

The President's order followed action of the War Labor Board in turning the coal dispute over to him after the operators and officers of the United Mine Workers had failed to reach any agreement.

Reports said he had a program of more drastic action in reserve if his order should go unheeded.

Possible moves were said to be an invocation of sanctions such as a draft reclassification, or denial of other work to miners.

Mr. Roosevelt saw members of the A.F.L.-C.I.O. Labor War Board today but members said afterward their meeting had no connection with the coal dispute.

Nevertheless, Presidential Secretary Stephen Early said he assumed the War Labor Board's order that negotiations between the operators and miners be halted until men are back in the coal pits still stands.

GREEN ATTENDS

The members of the combined C.I.O.-A.F.L. Labor War Board met periodically with the President to consider all matters pertaining to labor in the war effort.

Those coming to the White House included William Green, president of the A.F.L.; Phillip Murray, C.I.O. president; Julius Emspak, secretary-treasurer of the C.I.O. Automotive Workers' Union; and George Meany, A.F.L. secretary.

Italy Talks Tough

LONDON (CP)—A Rome radio broadcast recorded by Reuters agency today gave extracts from an article in the newspaper Il Tevere urging Italian gunners to get more practice "by shooting Allied airmen forced to parachute to the ground."

The article added that Allied war prisoners should be "rounded up and concentrated in target areas," saying that "if this war is to be a total one then let it be so."

3,700 Negroes Strike

ST. LOUIS (AP)—Approximately 3,700 negro employees of the St. Louis Ordnance plant, refusing to continue work under white foremen, remained away from their jobs today.

Pantelleria Next in Line For Occupation

ALLIED HEADQUARTERS, NORTH AFRICA (AP)—Allied destroyers sank two Axis merchant vessels and an escorting torpedo boat and drove an enemy destroyer ashore burning Tuesday night in an attack on a convoy off Cape Spartivento, Sardinia, it was announced today.

(The London News Chronicle today quoted French reports circulating in Madrid and elsewhere as saying an Allied invasion of Pantelleria could be expected momentarily and that the Italian fleet was prepared to steam into battle at an hour's notice. These reports said Sardinia and Sicily were likely to be attacked at the same time.)

Cape Spartivento is at the toe of Italy.

The daring Allied naval attack struck at the heart of Italy's sea communications in defiance of the Italian fleet.

Together with two naval bombardments this week of Pantelleria, it indicated that in Italy's southern waters the Allies have achieved naval supremacy to match their air supremacy.

(Dispatched from La Linea in Spain said today that Gibraltar has been greatly cleared of Allied shipping.)

Seventy merchantmen, including troop transports and tankers passed through the Strait of Gibraltar from the Atlantic en route to north Africa at dawn Wednesday, these advisers said, while another convoy of 60 freighters, six tankers and one hospital ship left Gibraltar harbor for the Mediterranean—and north African ports.

Gibraltar Harbor Almost Deserted

(No aircraft carriers or battle-ships, the dispatches said, now guard the rock. The harbor is more deserted than at any time during recent months, with scarcely a score of freighters, of which four are under repair, at anchor there, it was reported.)

(La Linea, Spanish city near Gibraltar, has been reporting heavy concentrations and movements of British warships and Allied merchantmen around Gibraltar for several days.)

The Italians are dependent on the Strait of Messina between Sicily and the toe of the Italian mainland to sail cargo ships between the west and east coasts. Cape Spartivento stands at the southern approach to the Strait of Messina.

In the air war, American planes raided Pantelleria and the southwest coast of Sardinia Wednesday without loss of a single plane.

The naval blow off Cape Spartivento, like the two naval bombardments of Pantelleria, was accomplished without loss of a single ship.

"Our force suffered no casualties or damage," said a communiqué.

One of the sunken merchant vessels blew up after being set afire by the destroyers' guns, the bulletin said. Among the attacking force was one vessel of the Royal Greek navy.

Allied planes swept over Pantelleria Wednesday almost at will, blowing up one building in the port area and damaging others, and shot up radio installations and bivouacked troops in southern Sardinia.

The merciless air offensive against Pantelleria, Mussolini's fortified rock 45 miles east of the tip of Cap Bon peninsula, was carried out by U.S. medium bombers and fighters. Pantelleria was shelled twice earlier in the week by ships of the British Navy's Mediterranean fleet.

San Antiocho Given Bombing

San Antiocho, off the southwest coast of Sardinia, also was attacked by air.

The operations were carried out without loss of any of the Allied planes, the announcement said.

(Meanwhile, the Italian high command reported that British naval units had renewed the bombardment of Pantelleria in conjunction with continued air raids during which anti-aircraft gunners claimed to have shot one plane into the sea.)

(Two additional Allied planes were claimed to have been destroyed by anti-aircraft defenses of Sardinia near Porto Torres and San Antiocho.)

R.C.A.F. Men Bomb Japs On Kiska

WASHINGTON (AP)—The navy department announced today that R.C.A.F. pilots took part in a raid on Kiska Island in the Aleutians June 1.

The Canadians participated in a raid by U.S. bombers and fighters during which hits were scored on the Japanese main camp area, runway and gun emplacements. The R.C.A.F. men flew U.S. Warhawks.

The last mention of Canadians taking part in Kiska raids was announced last week in a navy department communiqué.

Ethiopians Ask Crack at Italy

LONDON (CP)—A spokesman for the Ethiopian legation here suggests that picked Ethiopian commandos now in training be chosen to lead the Allied invasion of Italy.

The Ethiopians, he said, are eager to gain revenge on the Italians for their invasion of Ethiopia in 1935.

He said the idea had been suggested to Allied military leaders with the statement that the Ethiopian army is "ready to fight anywhere, any time, beside the Allies if we are provided arms and equipment."

First Picture of First Canadian-Built Frigate

Latest shipyard contribution—the Canadian-built frigate. Following the first of these hard-hitting U-boat hunters now completing trial runs and going into service in the Canadian Navy, others are sliding down the ways at shorter intervals as the builders increase their production speed. The frigate, which is intended to free destroyers from convoy duty so they may return to their original roles in fleet operations, is more than 300 feet long and is more like a destroyer in design than a corvette, with firepower many times greater. She is just as manoeuvrable and much faster. She carries the latest anti-submarine gear, is roomier and more comfortable. Navy men ashore are vying with each other to get their names on the lists to go to sea in these new ships.

Such a conference, Mr. Swystun said, would be expected to discuss and pass on resolutions dealing with Ukrainian problems in Europe.
"In view of the present international situation and public opinion in Canada, I think such a meeting would be most inopportune and might do more harm than good," he said.

Howard Plane Shot Down By Nazis In Futile Attempt to Find Churchill

LONDON (CP) — Belief prevailed in some quarters here today that the Germans were gunning for Prime Minister Churchill when they shot down a British-bound air liner bringing Leslie Howard and 12 other passengers and a crew of four from Lisbon Tuesday.

Three of the passengers were from Canada, Mrs. Rotha Hutcheon, 38, and her Canadian-born daughters, Petra, 11, and Caroline, 18 months.

Mrs. Hutcheon was returning to Britain from Canada, where she had lived for the last two years, to join her husband, Lt. Col. A. G. Hutcheon of the Royal Artillery and son of Dr. and Mrs. J. R. Hutcheon of Clovelly, Ont.

MORE NAZI PLANES
Reports said there was a greater concentration of Nazi planes over the Bay of Biscay—where the liner was last heard from while under attack—than at any one time in many months, and they were said to be pouncing on every aircraft they spotted.

It might be assumed, observers held, that the Germans were attempting to shoot down Mr. Churchill, believing he might be coming home from Washington via that route.

German-controlled radio stations had put out various stories about the Prime Minister's whereabouts during the past week. Last Sunday one Axis report said he had been in Gibraltar for several hours. The next day a dispatch from La Linea, Spain, said he was reported "somewhere in Africa" after spending 24 hours at Gibraltar.

The Axis assumption apparently was that Mr. Churchill would return to Britain over the Bay of Biscay.

The missing British airliner was manned by a Netherlands crew of four.

Besides Howard, the noted actor, and Mrs. Hutcheon and her daughters, the following were listed among the passengers:

Alfred T. Chenhall, 43, London accountant and company director, a friend of Howard.
Kenneth Stonehouse, Washington correspondent of Reuters news agency, and his wife.
Mrs. Cecilia Emilia Falla Paton, Tyrell Shervington, a Shell Company executive at Lisbon.
Ivan James Sharp, a London official of the United Kingdom Corporation returning from a business mission in Portugal.
Francis German Cowdrick, Gordon Thomas Maclean, Wilfred Jacobs Berthold Israel.
Further identification of the last three named was not immediately available.

HEAVY SEAS
It was not known whether any of the passengers had a chance to take to rubber life rafts, but if they did it was regarded here as doubtful the boats could have remained afloat in Tuesday's rough seas.

Mrs. Hutcheon was the only daughter of Sir Geoffrey and Lady Clarke. Her husband is a Canadian, born at Almonte, Ont. Arrangements had been made for welcoming Mrs. Hutcheon and her children at Sir Geoffrey Clarke's Harley Street home. Her husband arrived home today, but instead of a joyous welcome he was greeted with news of the tragedy.

"We are overwhelmed," said Lady Clarke. "Her husband knew she was on the way home and the news was a great blow to us."

An announcement by the Netherlands government carried by Aneta, Netherlands news agency, said the plane was a K.L.M. (Royal Dutch Airlines) plane flying in the British Overseas Airways service.

position of the company. It was pointed out that in the 10 years before 1929, the return earned on the investment in the company's railway system averaged 4.10 per cent, and was much less than this during the depression, but that in 1942, under the stimulus of war activities, it had again risen to 3.90 per cent, as compared with an average of 5.56 per cent for United States rail-

Allies May Land Nazi Army Men Tell Germans

NEW YORK (CP) — The Berlin radio, reflecting the concern in Germany over where the next Allied blow will fall, was permitted by the propaganda ministry today to broadcast discussions by army authorities on the "chances of Anglo-American invasion of Europe."

The experts, the enemy radio claimed, reached the conclusion that such landings might be carried out successfully, but only at heavy cost to the invaders.

An invasion article in the German army organ, Die Wehrmacht, was quoted in the discussions, recorded by the Associated Press, as declaring transport difficulties were the greatest Allied invasion problem, but adding:

"An Anglo-American expeditionary force might perhaps succeed in crossing the Mediterranean and landing somewhere in southern Europe, but it would not have the slightest chance in battle against the Axis continental armies with their millions of well-trained and well-equipped troops."

NORWAY FIELD
The Nazi writer also admitted that invaders "might perhaps succeed in obtaining a foothold at some points on the Norwegian coast for some time," but declared that "for such an event preparations have been made for prompt and effective counter-measures."

Along the Norwegian coast, Berlin said, German air reconnaissance is maintaining a constant patrol and any "invasion fleet would be attacked a long time before it reached the coast."

Fortifications along that coast were called "hardly less strong than those on the French Channel and the Atlantic coasts," the broadcast declared.

ITALIAN TALK
Apparently striving to frighten the Italians into a last-ditch fight, an Italian military spokesman declared in a broadcast from Rome that "our fate will be terrible and atrocious should we lose this war."

"Nobody will be spared," he said.

The broadcast, recorded by the Associated Press, went on to allege that Allied air raids were "cold-blooded mass murder of our unarmed civilian population."

"Enemies of Italy are promising peace and leniency in exchange for dishonor, shame and slavery," the spokesman said. "They are playing to the tune of making a distinction between the Italian people and the Fascist regime. This is sheer unscrupulous propaganda and no Italian will be such a fool as to believe it."

Giraud, De Gaulle Head Committee of Liberated French

ALGERS (AP) — The French executive committee was formally brought into existence today and given the name of the National Committee of Liberation.

The committee's personnel is the same as previously agreed on, with Gen. Henri Giraud and Gen. Charles de Gaulle as joint heads alternating in presiding.

Gen. Georges Catroux, who was liaison officer between Gen. Giraud and Gen. de Gaulle, was named successor to Marcel Peyroux as Governor-General of Algeria and also designated to be in charge of Moslem affairs throughout the French Empire.

NEW AIR FORCE HEAD
The committee also voted the removal of Gen. Jean Mendigal as chief of the French air force in north Africa, naming Gen. Buscat to succeed him.

It also voted the removal of Gen. Jean Marie Berget as commander of the French West Africa air force.

Whether Gen. Giraud is to remain commander-in-chief is scheduled to be decided Friday.

It was understood that Gabriel Puaux, former High Commissioner in Syria, would succeed Gen. Auguste Nogues as resident-general of French Morocco.

Formal announcement of the establishment of the committee was made by Gen. de Gaulle to newspaper correspondents tonight at his headquarters.

"The committee was constituted this morning with Gen. Giraud and myself as presidents," Gen. de Gaulle said. "It forms the French central power; it directs all French forces in every sovereignty in French territory and directs the war effort."

The members of the National Committee of Liberation besides Gen. Giraud and Gen. de Gaulle are:

Gen. Alphonse George and Jean Monnet as members selected by Giraud.

René Massigli and Andre Philip as members selected by De Gaulle.
Gen. Georges Catroux, accepted by both Giraud and De Gaulle.

mittee was brought formally into being broke a two-day deadlock during which no meetings were held and during which tension was evident in Algiers.

An agenda had been agreed on in conversations among members Wednesday, but by this morning, it was reported, several additional points which were opposed by Gen. de Gaulle had been put on the program. This was believed to have caused the delay.

Gen. de Gaulle had insisted that the purge of officials formerly of pro-Vichy tendencies take place before the committee was formally established, informed persons said, while Gen. Giraud demanded the committee be set up first and that it then consider each case on its merits.

These persons said Gen. de Gaulle had yielded to Gen. Giraud's demand for selection of the committee first and that it was agreed the consideration of individual cases would begin immediately.

The names of Gen. de Gaulle's outer list would be taken up in turn and he was assured that no meeting would be held without dismissing at least one official, it was said.

The Fighting French leader was said to have had 15 names on his first outer list, including Marcel Peyroux, Governor-General of Algiers, who resigned two days ago; Pierre Boisson, Governor-General of French West Africa; Gen. Auguste Nogues, commander of French Morocco; Gen. Jean Marie Berget, commander of the French West African Air Force, and Gen. Bene Proux of Gen. Giraud's general staff.

He wants to see the 15 go first. Then he has list No. 2 and list No. 3 and possibly others. These contain names of others considered by the Fighting French leader as less important of

Russians Bag 160 German Planes In Day's Fights

LONDON (CP) — Russian army fliers and anti-aircraft gunners bagged 37 German planes Wednesday as fierce aerial fighting flared over the Kuban valley northeast of Novorossisk, the Russian noon communique announced today.

There were no important changes on the long battlefield in Wednesday night's fighting, the communique said. It was recorded by the Soviet radio monitor here.

The resurgence of air battle in the western Caucasus came on the heels of a mass German raid Wednesday on the key Russian base at Kursk, 120 miles north of Kharkov, in which the Russians reported they shot down 123 Nazi planes of an attacking force of 500. The Russians admitted heavy damage was done at Kursk.

GERMANS THROWN BACK
The noon bulletin told of a several-days-old German drive on the Kallin front, a sector some 150 miles northwest of Moscow, in which a German advance was thrown back with about 2,000 Germans declared slain in two days of fierce fighting.

Three towns were taken in a Soviet advance in the Sevsk area, northwest of Kharkov, with about 200 Germans killed, the midday communique said.

Scattered action on the Smolensk front and south of Izum on the Donets River curve below Kharkov also was reported.

(Meantime, reports from the Baltic Red Navy fleet said increased activity was welcomed by the submarine and mine sweeping crews, ice-bound through the winter, and that the fleet itself was going to sea with new types of equipment furnished by the Allies.

(Quadruple anti-aircraft gun batteries are one new feature, it was said: The Russian battleship October Revolution is one-craft thus equipped. The weapons came without any accompanying instructors, the Soviet sailors assembled the guns, and they now are being used effectively against Nazi raiders, it was reported.)

RUSSIANS HAVE INITIATIVE

(Today's German communique said the Germans were engaged in heavy defensive fighting in their Kuban bridgehead and claimed that "thrusts and attempts at piercing the German lines, made by Soviet infantry and tanks, collapsed in concentrated fire... or else were smashed before the troops were deployed for attack.")

(Nazi air attacks on railway installations near Kursk were extremely heavy, and German shock troops blew up numerous dugout positions, the Germans claimed. They also asserted 83 Russian planes were shot down Wednesday. The communique was recorded by the Associated Press from a Berlin broadcast.)

(A Finnish communique today, broadcast by the Berlin radio and recorded by the Associated Press, claimed three bombers and three fighters were shot down out of a Russian formation of 14 bombers and 14 fighters in a clash Wednesday east of Suursaari.)

Today's WAR NEWS Analysis

By DE WITT MACKENZIE

The Anglo-American "experiment" of trying to bomb Hitler into near impotency is said in well-informed quarters to be proceeding splendidly according to plan, and it shouldn't be long now before the wear-tear begins to show in his fighting machine.

The effect of such bombing is cumulative. That is to say, Hitler naturally has reserve supplies which are considerably in advance of his immediate requirements. Thus even if all his war production were halted at one time, it wouldn't necessarily stop his fighting machine forthwith.

Continued day and night devastation of manufacturing centres over a wide area, however, will accumulate a mountain of disaster that in due course will hit the Fuehrer like an avalanche. Then will be the time for the Allies to put an army on the continent from the English Channel and march on Berlin.

NEED MORE FIGHTERS

One of the results of this bombing already evident is that the Nazis are having to increase the manufacture of fighter planes in order to defend their industrial centres. This means a decrease in the production of bombers and consequently in German raiding operations. In other words, Hitler is having to turn his air force into a defensive weapon.

While the Allied bombing is giving amazing results, an R.A.F. commentator in London Wednesday said greatly increased numbers of United States bombers are needed for operations from Britain.

The point he had in mind undoubtedly is this: To bring the bombing drive to its peak of efficiency there must be constant day and night operations with big fleets. The R.A.F. uses night bombers and is going all out. The Americans are specialists in day bombing, but they need more machines to increase their capacity. Indication is that this deficiency is being taken care of.

FASCINATING STRATEGY

The idea of this round-the-clock bombing is a fascinating bit of strategy. The Nazis must be on the alert day and night, because they don't know when an attack is coming.

This means that the German fighter squadrons and the anti-aircraft crews get little opportunity for sleep. Few things are so wearing on soldiers' endurance and morale as constant bombing with no chance for sleep.

The general theory on which the efficacy of all-out bombing of Germany is based is being well substantiated. Hitler's army is his strongest remaining weapon, and this is being deprived gradually of its striking power by the Allied aerial assault.

The deterioration will proceed more rapidly with passing time. That is, it will be the slowing down of war production in the United States doesn't cripple the great offensive.

Roosevelt Greets King On Birthday

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Roosevelt Wednesday expressed confidence in the spirit of unity between Britons and Americans, in a birthday message of congratulations to King George. The message said:

"The occasion of Your Majesty's birthday gives me a welcome opportunity to join in your country's celebration and to send you heartfelt congratulations and good wishes.

"On behalf of the people of the United States, let me also convey their greetings and good wishes to the people of Britain.

"The Allied victory in north Africa has recently given the world an unsurpassed demonstration of what can be done when Britain and America work together. Unity in friendship and purpose has bound together our soldiers on land, our sailors at sea and our fliers in the air. That same bond unites American and British workers in the task of production, transport and supply.

"I am sure that the spirit which has united our people in marching toward victory will direct their efforts after the war towards the goal of a just, lasting and fruitful peace."

King, Princesses Queen at Theatre

LONDON (CP) — The King celebrated his official birthday with a theatre party, escorting the Queen and Princesses Elizabeth and Margaret to a performance of "Arsenic and Old Lace," the Broadway stage hit, at a West End theatre Wednesday evening.

The audience rose and applauded when the Queen entered the royal box and cheered when it saw His Majesty. It was the first time either of the princesses had attended an evening performance of a play in the West End.

Seats in the royal box, which is situated at the side of the stage, were not good and the King had to rise several times to see what was happening at the corner of the stage nearest him.

His Majesty was 47 last December 14, but the event was not celebrated until now. There was no general observance, the King working throughout the day as usual.

A synthetic rubber tire just sent to Washington from Akron, Ohio, is reported to be the first to be made entirely of government-produced materials.

STEEL AND RESOLUTIONS

It is with no little interest and some concern that I read of various civic bodies and other organizations in B.C. passing and endorsing resolutions protesting the shipment of our iron ores to Washington for use in the operation of a steel rolling mill in that area. One would almost believe from the wording and tone of these protestations that our ores were being sent to a member of the Axis tribe and not to a respected unit of the United Nations. Surely these worthy gentlemen realize that Canadians and Americans are in this war together and mutual assistance and co-operation should be encouraged, not blocked. Were these same resolution-passers in evidence when, in the name of a favorable trade balance, Canada shipped thousands and thousands of tons of copper, zinc, lead, nickel and scrap steel every year to both Japan and Germany, with which were engineered the destruction of Coventry and at Pearl Harbor?

Let us examine briefly some of the facts concerning the steel industry in Canada. Our steel rolling mills are at present located in the eastern provinces close to the largest centres of population and industrial activity. Fabricated steel products are now being shipped by rail across Canada to B.C. for use in our shipyards and various other industrial enterprises. Steel scrap is shipped from here back across Canada to the mills for reuse in new steel production. What a waste of time, money and valuable car space! Why not establish a rolling mill here in the west? I'll tell you why not. First of all, the economic and financial sound operation of a steel mill of any consequence in this western Canadian area under normal peacetime conditions, would be an impossibility.

Granted we have ores and coals of excellent quality and quantity, economically available, and yet we lack the large supplies of scrap steel and iron, both actual and potential, so necessary in the efficient manufacture of good steel products. Normally, the eastern mills have no such problem. Steel products can be produced without the use of scrap material, but the cost of refining the ores would be prohibitive from the standpoint of good business. As a result, mill established in B.C. at the beginning of this war would have been a sensible step. The hundreds of tons of scrap we have shipped to the east could have been used right here on the spot, and thus taken quite a bit of the load from the eastern mills. Why wasn't the mill built? you ask. That's an interesting question, and there's an interesting answer. Years ago, certain enterprising individuals interested themselves in the possibility of building a steel mill here in B.C. Representations made to the British government were met with favorably to the tune of a loan promised of some $12,000,000. The stage was set. What happened? Certain financially and politically powerful American steel interests both in the United States and this country, saw to it that this "threat" to business was not permitted to materialize. Today these same interests exist more powerful than ever. A mill would be built if they chose to build it. They have made no such choice. We shall have no mill. How long then would it be before our rich deposits of iron ore would be utilized? Perhaps never.

Both American and Canadian shipyards along the Pacific coast are engaged in vast building programs. Enormous quantities of finished steel products will be required. More and more of this material will be produced in the western American states. Tremendous quantities of scrap steels and ores will be required. We in Canada, more particularly in British Columbia, can supply some of this ore and a little of the scrap steel. Our yards can in turn be supplied with the required steel products. This seems to me to be the intelligent course to follow in view of circumstances. We United Nations must be united in more than name alone. Co-operation to the fullest extent can speed victory.

Report On R.C.A.F.

Power Continuing Commission Fight

OTTAWA (CP) — The House of Commons today had a complete report on the efforts of Air Minister Power to have all Canadian air crew commissions. "The battle is still on," he said.

For the second day, the question of granting commissions to the men who fly against the enemy held the spotlight Wednesday in discussion of air department estimates for the fiscal year 1943-44 totalling $1,129,000,000.

At opening of the sitting, Prime Minister King told a questioner a redistribution bill will be brought down after the war appropriation measures are approved. The bill is expected to cover changes in representation in the House made necessary as a result of the 1941 national census which recorded population changes.

In the air debate Maj. Power said he opposed granting farm leaves for air crews. Such men were in the air force, with more than $25,000 spent in graduating some of them, and were not farmers. They must be one thing or the other.

PROTECTION AGAINST 'CALUMNY'

J. G. Diefenbaker, Prog. Con., Lake Centre, Sask., said it was a duty of the House to see that women in the R.C.A.F. Women's Division, and in other armed services, were protected against "calumny." Prosecutions under the Defence of Canada Regulations should be brought against those who slandered women in the services.

Maj. Power said plans were being made to make the pay of women in the service 80 per cent of that given men instead of 66 per cent, while it was proposed to place trade pay on the same basis as that given men. The new rates should be effective soon.

The minister said it had not been possible to carry out the policy of commissioning air crew to the extent he would have liked. At an Empire training conference in 1942, Canada had promised that all air crew would be commissioned, but the partners in the training agreement did not approve. By way of compromise, it was agreed to commission 33 per cent on graduation and 17 per cent in the field.

The minister said he had been anxious to see the men already overseas receiving commissions under this agreement. He believed a majority of the R.A.F. officers, under whom Canadians served had never heard of the agreement made at the training conference and did not have the necessary information about the men affected, so the commissions did not go through as had been wished.

COMMISSION APPEAL

Maj. Power said he disagreed with the system that only the top 33 per cent of a graduating class should receive commissions. So it was decided that if a Canadian received 60 per cent in each subject and 70 per cent over all, he would receive his commission.

This system meant more commissions were being granted. He had reports of commissions being given from 76 to 90 per cent of those in classes. Commissioning, he noted, carried pay increases. He expected more than 300 overseas commissions would be granted in May against 25 in November, 1941, but the number still was not enough.

SUPPORT VOICED

Maj. Power's efforts to increase the commissioning of Canadian air crew brought congratulatory remarks from several members and he said he felt sure he had the support of the entire chamber in this connection.

He said that of 900 Canadian air crew recommended for a commission after their arrival overseas a check last November showed that before any action was taken on the recommendations 172 had become casualties and 200 could not be traced.

He quoted from a United Kingdom memorandum on the subject of promotions in which it was suggested that the higher percentage of Canadian commissionings might create a feeling in the R.A.F. that standards were being lowered, thus lowering the prestige of the commissioned rank in the R.C.A.F., "with consequent adverse effects on the existing spirit of cordial co-operation."

"The natural answer to that," said Maj. Power, "is 'So what?' During the course of my discussions, however, I have learned some diplomacy."

Before the House went into committee Prime Minister King made several announcements in reply to questions and on matters of policy.

He made a statement to the effect Canada shared the view of the United Kingdom government that the Munich agreement of 1938 had been destroyed by Germany and that its clauses with regard to Czechoslovakia were no longer binding.

The House unanimously approved "a humble address" of loyalty and good wishes to King George VI on the occasion of the official celebration of his 48th birthday.

F.D.R. Or J.L.L.?

A PART FROM THE FACT THAT THE coal miner's lot is far from a happy one, that there is a great deal to be said in his favor when he thinks the nature of his calling should get a more liberal monetary recognition, the situation facing the industry in the neighboring Republic is resolving itself into a question as to whether Mr. Roosevelt or Mr. John L. Lewis is commander-in-chief in the United States.

The head of the United Mine Workers of America has gone to no particular pains to disguise the fact that he intends to pursue his personal vendetta against the President to the bitter end. It is evidently nothing to Mr. Lewis that his implacable attitude toward the War Labor Board in particular and the nation's welfare in general is beginning to produce a grave dislocation of essential war industry that will hamper seriously the efforts of the United Nations unless an amicable settlement is speedily found.

Nor does the fault apparently rest solely with the U.M.W. chief. Secretary of the Interior Ickes, who is now responsible for the production of coal, had some stern words to say the other day to the operators. But, so long as the pits are idle, so will Axis propagandists have new and useful material with which to regale enemy peoples and neutral nations alike. It is to be hoped that wiser counsels will prevail before the stoppage reaches more dangerous proportions.

Wisdom Prevailed

THOSE 31 NATIONS WHICH DO BUSINESS with the United States under the provisions of the Reciprocal Trade Agreement Act will be gratified over the Senate's endorsement of the renewing legislation by a vote of 59 to 23. The matter was finally disposed of late yesterday afternoon after a proposal to provide senatorial ratification of all such agreements had been defeated by 44 to 32.

The Reciprocal Trade Agreement Act of 1934 was Mr. Cordell Hull's earliest contribution to the battle against the malady of economic nationalism whose effects were seriously aggravated by Republican tariff policies. It will be recalled that the original measure, which has undergone no change in its essential particulars, furnished executive authority to adjust tariffs down or up to the extent of 50 per cent in return for similar reciprocal action on the part of countries availing themselves of this policy. The only change in the measure awaiting the signature of the President is in the length of its operation. The 1934 Act required renewal after three years; this was granted in 1937 and again in 1940. It will now remain in force for two years; renewal will have to be sought in 1945.

As we have pointed out in these columns repeatedly, had Congress repudiated in any substantial manner the underlying principle of this trading arrangement, it would have been interpreted by every one of the United Nations and by others as a sign that the United States intended to draw back into her economically-nationalistic shell after the restoration of peace. It was this possibility that the administration feared—the reason why Mr. Hull and a large and influential section of the press stoutly opposed amendments which would have paved the way for a return of the old log-rolling tariff squabbles. Economic isolation, of course, almost invariably sows the seeds of suspicion and helps to produce physical wars.

The interdependence of one nation upon another is a condition which ought to be patent to everybody by this time. But the spirited opposition to Mr. Hull's policy, both in the House ways and means committee and in the Senate finance committee, emphasizes the plain fact that a not inconsiderable element in Congress still clings to the fiction that a one-way trade is a feasible economic formula.

The Country Doctor

NINE YEARS AGO THE WHOLE WORLD learned that a hitherto little-known Ontario country doctor had performed something in the nature of a medical miracle by keeping alive five tiny tots whom he had delivered to French-Canadian parents by the name of Dionne. This hard-working and essentially conscientious physician was Dr. Allan Roy Dufoe, and the circumstances of his rise to fame are too familiar to require any recapitulation here. But his death is emphasized, not only in tribute to the profession of which he was an honored member, but as a reminder of the high resolve which animates the men who toil without stint—often under baffling conditions—in the cause of human suffering. Dr. Dufoe tackled the task which confronted him on that cold morning in Callander in 1934 as just another job which demanded the maximum exertion of the skill he had acquired in his modest practice through the years. In the closing hours of his life he had the satisfaction of knowing that he had done his duty. His memory imparts new lustre to the scroll of Canadian medical history.

'In Spite of Myself'

AT LEAST ONE PROMINENT AND DISTINGUISHED American citizen is not permitting the brewing political battle of 1944 to worry him unduly. He is Wendell L. Willkie, author of "One World"—the phenomenal best seller—and unsuccessful Republican candidate for the presidency in 1940. Down in Oberlin, Ohio, on Tuesday he told a press conference that he had not decided whether he would enter that state's Republican presidential primary; but he blithely assured the assembly of newspapermen that he might get next year's nomination "in spite of myself." And we can imagine the twinkle in his eye as he said: "Ham Fish is against me; Gerald L. K. Smith is against me; and I understand Landon is against me." And as the reporters filed out, he reopened the door and volunteered: "Say, add Col. McCormick, of the Chicago Tribune, to that list." In more serious vein, however, Mr. Willkie had this to say to the Cleveland News:

"The Republican Party has no chance of electing its man in 1944 unless its platform and its candidate both recognize that the enemies of the world are interdependent, and the United States must play its full part in bringing about co-operation between all nations, and also its full part in the preservation of peace and economic stability."

The sentiments expressed in the foregoing re-echo the terms of the declaration of Republican policy to which Mr. Willkie committed the national committee of his party at its meeting in Chicago nearly 14 months ago. Here is the minute:

"That after this was the responsibility of the nation will not be circumscribed within the territorial limits of the United States; that our nation has an obligation to assist in the bringing about of understanding, comity and co-operation among the nations of the world in order that our liberty may be preserved and that the fighting and destructive process of war may not again be forced upon us and upon the free and peace-loving peoples of the earth."

On the morrow of the publication of that document the New York Daily News, one of several which constitute the bitterest anti-Roosevelt newspaper bloc in the country—all controlled by the family dominated by Col. Robert McCormick—headed an editorial with "Good-bye to the G.O.P.," and proceeded to warn its readers that the Republican Party might be one of the casualties of the war "if it continued to be dominated by Willkie and the internationalists."

But what must the Fishes, the Smiths, the Landons and the McCormicks be saying to themselves as they see Mr. Willkie's "One World" soaring toward a sale of 1,500,000? It is not enough that the standard-bearer of 1940 should be gaining friends through his exhortation to the United States to jettison her political and economic isolationism; thinking people throughout the American continent and farther afield are paying their one and two dollars for their own copy of the Willkie philosophy—with all the trimmings that make this best-seller one of the most readable of books the war has produced. Its author is not to be blamed if his opponents do not agree with his conclusions. Purchase of the volume is not compulsory.

He Was A Fine Patriot

STAGE, SCREEN, RADIO AND THE cause of the United Nations will suffer equally by the removal of Leslie Howard from the world of living men. This "gracious, boyish person"—as one of his contemporaries once affectionately described him—had risen to fame in many spheres of human endeavor largely because he had learned how to live in the finest sense of the term. His stage success was the reward of indefatigable labor and the intelligent application of his knowledge of people and their moods. He imparted to the celluloid reproduction of his work that brilliant and realistic artistry which won him his first stage successes on Broadway. And it took Hollywood some time to get over the loss it sustained when he returned to his native England on the outbreak of war. But his heart was in his homeland; and there he used unstintingly his great gifts of oratory and understanding in the role of an unofficial ambassador from the United States and as an interpreter of Britain to her English-speaking friends on this side of the Atlantic. To do this he left a wide field in which further fame and fortune continually beckoned. But no finer epitaph could be erected to his memory than the imperishable knowledge that he served the cause of right and justice so magnificently and so selflessly.

What About The 8,000,000?

CROWN PRINCE UMBERTO SAYS Italy had not been able to make as many arms as other countries because she had insufficient raw materials. But everybody knows that Italy always has depended on her imports of raw materials for her economic existence. Consequently, the heir to the shaky throne of Savoy has called upon Il Duce's soldiery to throw their "spiritual and physical strength" into the struggle.

But where are those 8,000,000 bayonets Mussolini said he had available for the cause of the Axis to make quite sure of complete victory for himself and Adolf of Berlin? And where are the Italian navy and the Italian air force that were going to blast the ships and planes of Great Britain out of the seas and the skies?

Umberto and his papa, of course, have at last realized that the little ersatz Caesar with the protruding chin made the mistake of his Fascist life when he drove the stiletto into the back of prostrate France nearly three years ago. Meanwhile, however, Mr. Churchill has shown the Italian people a way out of their immediate troubles.

Another myth we'll see exploded is that of Tojo. He makes a good figurehead, but smarter men will put him out on his ear when he fails.

THE BEGINNING

NO ONE SEEMS to think that the recent statement of the Canadian government at the World Food Conference in Hot Springs was very important. I have seen no outbursts across the country to suggest that the leaders of opinion see in this statement anything of more than passing interest. But to a suspicious mind like mine the statement presented fascinating possibilities. Nor do I think Mr. Bracken missed it either.

In the statement of the Food Conference—undoubtedly prepared by Mr. King, or at least carefully edited by his hand—Canada proposed to abolish the tariffs on all foodstuffs after the war. The public, accustomed to big news and constant shifts of policy, hardly stopped to think what this plan would mean. It would mean, for example, the free entry of California vegetables into the B.C. market, the free entry of Washington apples to compete with ours; and on the other hand, it would mean the free movement of our beef, grains, milk and fish to the United States.

The economic issue posed here is quite simple and larger than Mr. King's cautious statement indicates. It is simply this: During the war the productive systems of Canada and the United States have been integrated. For war purposes each country produces what it is best able to produce and each country helps the other with raw materials and so forth, disregarding the ordinary barriers of tariffs and money payments. This is the meaning of the Hyde Park Agreement. Shall we end this integration after the war or shall we extend it to peacetime goods? There is the real issue.

Mr. King characteristically approaches it in a spiral course by proposing for a start that the tariffs on food everywhere be removed. He can hardly stop there. Much larger measures of free trade will be necessary to re-establish the world's commerce. Manufactured goods as well as food must move through the world. Backward countries must be given the chance to develop their own industries; must get credits to buy machinery from us.

Mr. King has a great chance of leadership in this matter. Up to now there has been little indication that he intended to embrace this opportunity but, unless one reads too much into his Hot Springs statement, he is moving at last.

PRACTICAL POLITICS

THIS IS POLITICS in its highest and best sense. But there is also in it the prospect of interesting practical politics, on a lower level. For if Mr. King is really returning to tariff reform, which was the original basis of his thinking and the original basis of the Liberal Party, then he will create a most interesting issue for his enemies. He may split them down the middle.

A real tariff issue dumped into the lap of the Progressive (low-tariff) Conservative (high-tariff) Party would be calculated to act like a blockbuster. On one side of it would be Mr. Bracken, who has always been a low-tariff farmer and liberal from the agrarian west, and on the other, the Conservatives of Ontario, who have always been for a high tariff to maintain the dominant place of their own area in the lop-sided economy of Canada. A clear fault runs through the apparently firm rock of the Progressive Conservative Party. If Mr. King can drill into this fault he can split the whole mountain in two. It is not clear that Mr. King will do this, has the courage to do it or the desire. It is not certain yet that the King government is going to be any sounder in these matters than the Conservative Party. The King government and the Liberal Party are also full of high-protectionists. There are low-tariff Liberals like Mr. Bracken. There are protectionists like Mr. Hanson and Mr. Harris.

STRANGE MIXTURE

IT IS, OF COURSE, in the nature of our political parties that they shall include men of many different viewpoints because we are a strangely-assorted nation and yet refuse to establish enough parties in Parliament to represent every viewpoint. We know that such a system destroys parliamentary government as it did in France. Therefore, one does not grow excited on finding that Mr. King's ministers do not agree among themselves or that Mr. Bracken, the liberal free-trader, wakes up in bed with the Tory protectionists of the east. One just wonders what will happen.

As always in our system, a compromise will happen. There will be no clear-cut decision and no ideal solution. There never is and never will be in a democracy, but never in a dictatorship.

Nevertheless, there must be an election in Canada next year. Mr. King will not extend the life of Parliament and, very properly, he is laying the foundation for his appeal now, just as Mr. Bracken is working by another method—the method of personal contact, of nonpolitical meetings, picnics, curling matches and milking competitions—to lay the foundation of his appeal.

These things take time. Mr. King, a master of indirection, has planted his seed (to mix the metaphor a little) by a statement at Warm Springs which, as was intended, few will observe but which will grow and develop if the climate and temperature are found suitable. Mr. Bracken has proclaimed no policy at all but has convinced many Canadians that he is a fine fellow. Will Mr. King go ahead with the policy laid down so guardedly at Hot Springs? Will Mr. Bracken announce any real policy? We shall not know for some time. These are the days of sparring for position. By the year's end the fight of 1944 will be well under way.

Who's Bigger?

Most Canadians Want U.S. Reciprocity

TORONTO—War, which breaks down many a barrier, appears to have had its influence on public opinion with regard to one of the most contentious issues in Canadian politics—reciprocity with the United States. Today, the Gallup Poll finds a surprisingly large—though varying—majority in every part of Canada in favor of a free interchange of goods with United States after the war. The majority, as might be expected, is lowest in the eastern part of Canada, but it is a majority nevertheless.

The issue was put by the Gallup Poll on the basis of post-war, as follows: "After the war, do you think we should have free trade with United States—that is, that all products and merchandise crossing the border either way should be free of all tariff and customs duties?"

If this sweeping proposal were put to the people of Canada in the form of a plebiscite today, the result would be (on the basis of this survey), a national vote of approximately the following:

Favor free trade, 67%.
Oppose free trade, 17%.
Undecided, 16%.

WEST HEAVY SUPPORTER

If the views of eastern and western Canada today are taken separately, the dividing line being the Ontario-Manitoba border, opinion would be as follows:

Eastern Western Canada Canada
Favor free trade 63% 78%
Oppose free trade 20 9
Undecided 17 13

100% 100%
Of all areas of Canada, reciprocity with United States is least popular in the Maritime provinces, but even here, six persons out of every ten would approve it as a post-war measure. Majority approval is, of course, highest on the prairies, where nearly eight in every 10 persons interviewed voted in favor. Canada's agricultural west has long opposed tariffs on manufactured goods.

Quebec and Ontario, which do not see eye to eye on many issues, nevertheless show a remarkable accord on this particular issue:

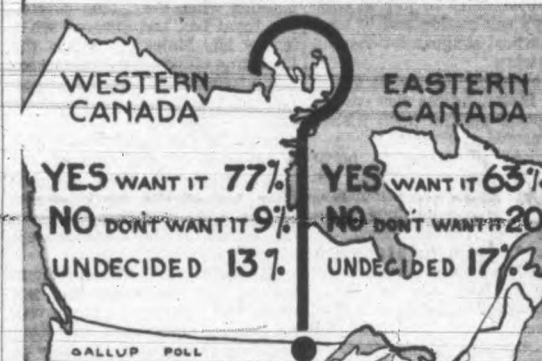

Quebec Ontario
Favor free trade 64% 64%
Oppose 18 22
Undecided 18 14

OCCUPATIONAL DIFFERENCES

Opposition to complete elimination of all tariffs on the Canadian-U.S. border is more than twice as strong among the business and professional men of Canada, half of whom either oppose it outright, or are undecided. This can be seen when the views of Canadians are grouped according to occupation:

There is also some considerable differences between the way the three main income groups view reciprocity:

ready gone a long way toward lowering or eliminating tariffs on many items on Canada's southern border. The Joint Economic Committee, which acts in an advisory capacity to the governments in Washington and Ottawa has already reduced tariffs and import duties restricting the free flow of supplies for war purposes.

In sharp contrast to the majority views of 40 or 50 years ago, when, in a succession of federal

DUEL OF MAN AND TANK

U.S.S.R. Information Bureau

A Red Army newspaper published at the front reports a remarkable duel between German Stepan Gromov and a German tank.

Gromov was lying in a village street firing at enemy infantry with his tommy gun. A tank entered the street and headed straight for him. Gromov leaped to his feet and jumped on the enemy tank. With his left arm he clung to the gun barrel, crouching so as to be out of range of the machine gun.

The trap-door of the tank opened and a German popped out. Holding on with his left hand, Gromov fired with his right and the German vanished as quickly as he had appeared. The next was more cautious—only his hand, holding a grenade, appeared. Another volley from Gromov and the grenade fell to the ground.

For fully 20 minutes the duel of man and tank continued. In a final effort to get rid of the insolent rider, the Germans headed full speed toward a telephone pole, but Gromov managed at the last second to jump aside and take cover behind a barn. Losing sight of their prey, the Germans halted. Gromov spotted an anti-tank crew nearby, dashed to them and pointed out the target. The gunners put a shell through the barn and set the tank on fire.

Singing Seamen Busy in Victoria

A singing seaman, Robert Seberg, is finding a big demand in Victoria for his talents since navy duties sent him to the Pacific coast.

Robert, who is one of the hundreds of boys who come and go in the servicemen's canteens, is one of those prairie lads who are reputed to make some of the world's best sailors.

Born in Bawlf, Alberta, he moved to Edmonton in 1939 to become salesman for a washing machine company. But he started his singing career long before his civilian job, singing first with Ken Smith's Talisman Band while still a stripling in Bawlf. In Edmonton his talent again won recognition and he joined Hector Hodgkinson and his playboys who did considerable entertaining among the armed forces.

Transferred by his company to Saskatoon, Saskatchewan, Robert met Ken Parkes who conducted the Cavern Ballroom Orchestra, and was vocalist for that unit until he joined the Navy in 1942.

After being stationed for eight months in Calgary, taking an E.R.A. course, Robert was sent out for his first glimpse of the rolling ocean at Victoria, and is on the Naden 11 completing his course.

Bob finds life in the navy to his liking. He has acquired an earlier coat of tan than he had imagined possible until he struck the earlier summers in B.C. Singing engagements have been numerous.

Property Sales Show Demand for Homes

Free money and housing demands found reflection in property sales in Victoria during April, according to figures released today by the city assessor-collector's department.

During that month 154 properties brought $344,998, the highest monthly figure since March, 1941, and the highest April since 1930.

In addition to sales, 51 properties valued at $92,663 changed hands through transfers, and another $46,672 through wills.

The sales total was the most important. On a breakdown it showed average deals to run to $2,240, a price which would cover home purchases.

Beaver Lake Swimming Up to R.C.A.F. Heads

Permission to swim in Beaver Lake, Siamese twin of Elk Lake, can only be secured from the R.C.A.F. F. L. Shaw, city solicitor, said today.

Use of Beaver Lake this summer has been sought in petitions from students of Saanich schools.

Recently the city passed a by-law banning swimming in Elk Lake, at the request of the air force authorities, which use the water exclusively for training in the locality.

When the swimming ban by-law was passed, Ald. J. A. Worthington, water board chairman, said efforts would be made by his committee to retain swimming privileges at Beaver Lake.

Good Book Choice For Servicemen, Says Librarian

"People of Victoria, on the whole, have not done too badly in the task of providing interesting reading material for the troops," said Miss Marjorie Holmes, assistant provincial librarian for the B.C. government, when asked to comment upon the statement of E. S. Robinson, librarian of the Vancouver Public Library, to the effect that library service, provided for the Canadian troops is "rotten," and the books donated "rubbish."

Miss Holmes, who is head of a committee of six or seven librarians responsible for sorting the books donated for the troops on Vancouver Island, said though she did not wish to be drawn into controversy in the matter, she thought that the reading material being made available to the troops was not bad; that much of it, in fact, was very good; and that it was as good as could be provided under the present system of volunteer efforts and private donations, and with what money was available for this purpose at present.

COULD BE IMPROVED

She agreed with Mr. Robinson that the reading of the men in the services could be improved, and that this could possibly be done if there was someone in each camp to direct their reading.

"But usually the job of receiving and distributing the libraries is one, particularly in the more isolated camps, which is thrust upon just anyone, whether they know anything about it, or not," said Miss Holmes.

Mr. Robinson launched his criticism of the library books provided for the men in the army and air force camps, at a meeting of the B.C. Library Association last week when he said, "Believe it or not, but serious donations made for soldiers' reading includes, 'Marjorie's Vacation,' Carolyn Wells; 'Georgina Finds Herself,' Watkins; 'Miss Betty,' Porter; 'Dear Enemy,' Jean Webster; 'Laddie,' Gene Stratton Porter; 'V.V.'s Eyes,' Hutchinson, and the works of Ethel M. Dell."

Miss Holmes said, "Yes, we do get all those books, but we get others as well, including the classics, popular fiction, and the more vital modern books such as those by foreign correspondents, like William Shirer's 'Berlin Diary,' and 'Only the Stars are Neutral.'"

Describing the set-up of the present library work, Miss Holmes said, "The Citizens' War Services Committee, which has a library sub-committee headed by W. T. Strath, K.C., is the distributing agency. The I.O.D.E. is the source of supply."

Miss Holmes and the six or seven other librarians who assist in the project, go to No. 12 Metropolitan Building several nights each week to sort and pack the books for distribution among the various army and air force camps on the island.

"Besides collecting books through drives, through the various collecting depots set up, and even through the salvage, the I.O.D.E. also provides many new ones," said Miss Holmes. "By means of this service some of the very latest books are bought in the east and distributed through the provincial chapters."

Miss Holmes pointed out that the books provided in this way were intended to be "purely recreational reading only." Nothing technical. Nothing educational. This aspect was left to the Canadian Legion War Services.

EXTREMELY MIXED

"Naturally the books turned in by the public are extremely mixed," she said. "Some good, some bad, some children's, some religious."

She said that in sorting them the librarians endeavored to use judgment as to what the men would likely be interested in. The children's books were weeded out and sent where they would be more appreciated, such as the Fairbridge Farms. The purely women's books were reserved for women in the services, "though we don't send the girls exclusively women's books," Miss Holmes hastened to add. The ones considered hopeless were passed on through other channels where they would be of some use, even if it meant helping to roof a barracks.

Miss Holmes said: "When the service first started and appeals began to be made, naturally we did get quite a lot of the clearings of someone's attic or basement. But even so the books were not all bad—some were just a little old—but we sometimes have to take the view that 'a book is new until you have read it.'"

She said that now that the service has been built up, however, efforts are being made to make it "more choosy."

"In general we try to send the better books to the more isolated camps, feeling that the boys in more urban centres have access to public libraries, to bookshelves and to current magazines."

"It must be remembered, too, that we have to cater to a wide diversity of tastes," said Miss Holmes, pointing out that though some were satisfied with books that might interest a child in grade six, the committee were often surprised at the reception accorded a really adult book such as "Crime and Punishment," by Dostoevsky.

I.O.D.E. Protested Biased Newsreels

EDMONTON — Measures to protect the health and safety of children attending theatres were recommended by Mrs. B. B. Osler of Toronto, in reporting for the National Film Committee of the Imperial Order Daughters of the Empire, at their annual meeting here today. Increased supervision of the type of films presented for children, and the attendance of a qualified matron trained in first aid and home nursing, at all children's matinees, were advocated.

Mrs. Osler reported that the I.O.D.E. had supported other organizations in a move to provide free moving pictures on Sunday for members of the armed forces, and that a limited number of theatres were now open across Canada. Interest was being stimulated among local chapters in the showing of A.R.P. films, said Mrs. Osler, and as a result of the biased commentaries in the Dieppe news reels, a protest had been sent to the National Film Board in Ottawa, recommending that a Canadian be added to the New York staff charged with the editing of such films.

IMMIGRATION NOTES

Mrs. J. J. Creelman, chairman of the Immigration and Canadianization Committee, said in her report that the order was giving special study to the problem of postwar immigration from Europe, and recommended that preference should be given to the type rather than the number of settlers admitted.

She said the I.O.D.E. favored, first, the entry into Canada of settlers with a knowledge of the English language, and, second, those from Scandinavian countries and the Netherlands, who learned English readily and were already acquainted with the workings of democratic institutions. "In any immigration into Canada," she maintained, "there should be a preponderance of British stock." The work of Canadianization carried on among Canada's new citizens was being stressed by the I.O.D.E. in all provinces, Mrs. Creelman said.

The Girl Guide companies sponsored by the order have extended their activities both in peacetime and wartime work, according to Mrs. J. D. Morrison, chairman of the Girl Guide committee. In the past year, among other things, they have knitted hundreds of garments for the armed forces, made clothing for children in England and collected salvage and used postage stamps.

Mrs. Fred W. Bates of Regina reported on the work of the committee for Empire work in India, carried on at the Canadian hospital at Nasik and St. Helena's School at Poona.

Victorians Attend Empire Day Dinner

Miss Ella Monk of Victoria and Miss Margaret Tryon of Vancouver were conveners for a group of 50 B.C. women, who were present at a Victorian Day banquet and dance in the Statler Hotel in Washington, D.C. Other Victorians in the group were Miss Betty Le Gallais, Miss Monica Brockhurst and Miss Olive Freeman.

B.C. girls were but one group of the 400 Canadian women in attendance who are serving the Allied Nations on the staff of the British Ministry of Supply in the U.S. capital. Each province had a representative table, where the decorative motif and as centrepiece a replica of St. Princess Victoria sailed on a glass sea with a shoreline of Burrard Inlet and the North Shore mountains.

Capsule Wardrobe for 1943 June Bride

Many of today's brides will have precious little time to gather a trousseau or fill a hope chest. Their wedding invitations often will go out via the telephone just after she's received a telegram from her fiancé to be ready for the "big event" by the time his furlough train arrives.

Not only must her trousseau be selected in a hurry, but it should be suitable for any climate or occasion, and small enough to fit into a couple of bags.

Five outfits—plus a couple of blouses and sweaters—will see a bride through her wedding and the summer if she follows the one-color formula. Concentration on such color ranges as beige to brown or light blues to navy, automatically cuts down the number of hats, shoes, bags and gloves needed, and also makes it possible to mix and match outfits.

If a bride plans to wear a street-length wedding dress, a simple model of organza or crepe

Gown for the wedding ceremony—and for dinner parties and dances all season long—is the simple model, left, of organza, with self-applique, worn with a bright-colored field flower calot. The dainty print dress, right, is a two-piece model, with inconspicuous all-over design. The hat of shiny straw, thanks to the "one-color-range" idea, also serves with the bride's traveling suit and all-occasion dress.

Wedding Invitations

Wedding invitations should be issued by the parents of the bride-elect, or by the surviving parent if one is deceased. When neither parent is alive, the invitation may be issued by an unmarried brother, a married sister and her husband, or any other relative or relatives. Invitations may also be extended by a guardian, or friend with whom the orphaned bride-elect has made her home.

Note that when the invitation is issued by other than the parents of the bride-elect, her surname should be given, with the prefix "Miss."

In the event of a second marriage, the married name of the bride-elect by her first husband should be given, with the prefix "Mrs." in all cases.

In certain circumstances it is quite in order for the contracting parties to issue the invitation jointly, under their own names, as for example, where both reside in a locality in which they have no relatives or intimate friends.

Where there are two daughters in a family, and the parents are extending the invitation, the word "daughters" is sometimes prefixed by "elder" or "younger" as the case may be. Where there are three or more, the superlative is used, for example, "eldest," "youngest," and for others, "second," "third," according to sequence.

In cases where catering arrangements have to be made, it is desirable that the number of guests who will be present at the reception, or breakfast, be known beforehand. In such cases it is customary to embody in the invitation a request for a reply—usually the letters "R.S.V.P." (the initials of the French, "Respondre s'il vous plait"—Reply, if you please).

BOLERO
They're everywhere. Outfits of two pieces that sometimes match, sometimes don't. Many come with "separate" blouse.

The Question Is ...

In answering an invitation to a wedding should it be addressed to the bride-elect's mother and father or just to the mother alone?

Replies should be addressed to those who issued the invitation, the mother and father of the bride-elect. It makes no difference whether the person invited knows the bride's parents personally. The invitation has been issued in their name, and therefore they receive the reply.

When a formal wedding invitation to the church only is received, is a reply necessary?

No reply is expected for an invitation to the church only, but if the invitation includes a reception or breakfast, or to a house wedding or a wedding in any hotel or assembly rooms, a written answer should be sent at once.

Should the mother of the groom be invited to showers honoring the bride-elect?

If the hostess is not acquainted with the groom's mother, it would still be a very nice gesture to include her when she is inviting the mother of the bride.

Is it necessary to wear white gloves at a wedding?

It is always correct to wear white gloves, but others can be worn if they blend more harmoniously with the ensemble.

Are congratulations offered to the bride on the announcement of her forthcoming marriage? The bride is never congratulated, but instead receives every wish for her future happiness from friends. The groom always receives the congratulations.

When notes of invitation to an informal wedding are sent out, by whom are they written, and is R.S.V.P. included at the bottom? Since the mother of the bride-elect is to be the hostess, the invitations are written by her. The note should be worded with a request for an answer indicated in the invitation. It is not correct to write R.S.V.P. on these notes.

If an invitation has been received to a church wedding and reception, and cannot be accepted should a gift be sent?

This is a personal matter and can only be decided by the recipient of the invitation. If a close friend of either of the principals, a gift for the new home would probably be sent.

Are becoming more and more synonymous ... for Home once a word that meant "a place to go from" is fast reverting to the old-fashioned Home "the dearest place to be". Young people, brides and grooms, entering life together know the full meaning of a happy home.

In a world torn with war they gloriously take up the challenge to express their love of life by surrounding themselves with things they cherish in their home.

To these brides and grooms we wish that their happiness in the years to come may be full and rich and lasting.

Cotton Housedresses Pretty Enough to Go Outdoors

This year's cotton housedresses have a new, fastidious attention to detail that pretty well eliminates that "run-up-by-loving-hands-at-home" look of other years. In fact, they are so feminine and pretty-looking that the 1943 bride will wear them for the afternoon marketing trip as well as for making the morning toast.

The dirndl is about the No. 1 style. But due to government fabric restrictions, which permit only front fullness, the back is gored and, while it flares at the hem, is flat and slim across the hips.

You'll also see many versions of the shirtwaist dress and of the coat dress, buttoned down the front. These classics flatter every figure so that they are "musts" in any line of cotton dresses. The wrap-around is no longer the simple little surplice number of other years. Some versions of this old standby go clear across, to button from under the arm to the waist, with only the skirt wrapping.

There are pinafores, too, this season, ranging from the severely practical to some pretty coy Victorian adaptations decorated with rick-rack. To many of these cotton dresses and pinafores is added the "little girl" freshness of starched white frills, often of broderie anglaise, sometimes of the white cloth or of Irish lace.

Colors are mostly in pastel shades, due to dye priorities, but some deep shades remain, especially in gingham, to take care of the early spring demand.

If you seek variety of material and texture, you'll find it a plenty. There are scraps of gingham, chambrays, muslins, washable chintzes, plain and printed piques. In the last, there is a new, very large, washable design, used mostly in jackets. There is a seersucker, finer and less crumpled looking than most.

Patterns are as varied as you'd expect, coming in all sizes and motifs, even down to microscopic dots. Those which seem newest and most unusual are big window pane plaids, the size of old-fashioned panes, in lovely pastel shades. Incidentally, a new note in this season's plaids is that the predominating lines run up and down, instead of horizontally. It's a slimming idea.

A Few Aprons In Trousseau

Aprons have entered the trousseau picture in these war days when practically every young bride must do her own work. This is one year when you won't take off your apron to answer the door. You'll be much more apt to put it on instead, because the new aprons are every bit as attractive as the season's housedresses and sometimes even more so.

Aprons are specialized today. There's the rubberized type made of thin waterproof material, done up in frivolous colors but planned for the very practical purpose of protecting your dress from splashes when you wash the dishes or shampoo your hair. And there's the bib-type apron of sturdy cotton for serious over-the-stove duty.

LIKE DIRNDL

There's the half apron that wraps around the waist like a dirndl skirt for dusting, bed-making and doorbell-answering.

FOR THE SLIM

As becoming a style as was ever invented for the young and slim is the dirndl apron with the wide waistband. It ends in equally wide ties that fasten in a ridiculous big bow in the back, whittling down your waist to almost nothing, by comparison.

Look at transparent dotted Swiss fancies that might have come out of a doll house. Look, too, at glazed chintz aprons with shirred and pleated waistbands and at the checked gingham with pleated ruffles. The bride who isn't the ruffled type can choose instead a peasant style of brown cotton, with beige flowers scattered here and there.

You can even have a sweetheart neckline in your apron. One very feminine bib-style cotton is patterned in floral stripes in pretty pastels, and has the familiar heart-shaped dip incorporated in the curve of the bib.

The pinafore appears in pink and white striped chambray and the familiar Hoover apron is done in a flower print. But for all-round hard housework, like spring housecleaning, you'll want the work apron, an apron that is actually a wraparound dress of soft blue denim, with a countrified air to it.

Wedding Guests

Wedding guests must be punctual, and should arrive never later than 15 minutes before the hour. They will tell the ushers who they are and have some idea of where they are entitled to sit. When the wedding march begins they rise and stand during the processional, the ceremony and the recessional, waiting while the bride's parents and then the groom's, and then the immediate relatives file out.

The ushers will, at a fashionable wedding, hurry back from the recessional and escort the bride's mother, the groom's mother and the women in the first few pews to the door of the church, as when they seated them.

Bridegroom's Expenses

The groom supplies the motor car in which he and his best man ride to the place of ceremony and retains the same vehicle for use when he and his bride leave the church for the reception, home, railway station or steamship wharf. He secures the bride's bouquet and the wedding ring. He pays, usually through his best man, the wedding fee, and as a rule presents a gift to his best man, to his ushers, and also to the bridesmaids, if he so desires.

"Mark my words . . . the only way we can keep these young people happy is by giving them a home of their own when so many of them are marrying now."

You hit the nail on the head that time, because war does make young people want their home . . . for as long as they are on this side it's having a home that gives them courage and fortitude to endure this battle.

Now, KING REALTY doesn't think a man and girl are crazy in marrying today, but we do figure we are crazy in asking you people for listings. We've asked you before . . . and received a slight response, so feel maybe you don't want to sell.

Maybe you don't know these young people can arrange good payments . . . maybe we do figure we are crazy in asking you people for listings. We've asked you before . . . and received a slight response, so feel maybe you don't want to sell.

you don't realize KING REALTY can help you find a new home . . . whether it is another house, duplex or apartment. Maybe you're just hesitating to take the step . . . that's why KING REALTY are asking you to list your property now.

Informal Notes Or Announcements

Because of short notice, today's service bride-to-be may have to forego the formal engraved invitation. If she has time she can write informal notes to her friends or if there isn't time for that she may find it simpler to let a few close friends round up other guests quickly by telephone and telegraph. Give each friend a list and ask each to be responsible for every acceptance or regret.

Naturally the bride's parents will send out the traditional formal engraved announcement to those who were unable to attend the wedding as soon after the ceremony as possible.

HAVE RECEPTION IF POSSIBLE

If yours is a furlough wedding it's a nice gesture for some close friend of your family to give a luncheon for the entire party the very day of the wedding. It's a grand way to keep the party intact and it will help keep your family from getting the raving jitters.

If it's at all possible, do have your friends at the reception, if not the wedding. If your husband is off to the wars, this may be your last big party for some time to come, so you'll want to do it in a big way. Make it a memorable affair with dancing if possible and plenty of good food.

Nobody will censure the service bride for not getting off thank-you notes as soon as she receives a wedding gift . . . but these notes should be written as soon after the honeymoon as possible.

As always white appears even in the informal trousseau. This charmingly simple woollen frock has for its only decoration shoulder sprays of bronze-colored embroidery, whose tints are repeated in the bronze leather pumps.

CONSERVATION

The three-in-one dress camouflages fabric-saving, but some designers parade their material-stretching talent—hence, a popular shirtmaker dress with one striking detail—a set-in belt.

Cutting Wedding Cake Important Bridal Ceremony

The bride should remove the centerpiece before cutting the first piece of cake. The flowers may be left around the base—to be removed by those who cut the bottom layer.

The bride should cut the first piece of cake and share it with her husband. If the cake is served at a reception, the bride cuts it, after greeting her guests. If it is the dessert at a luncheon or supper, she waits until dessert time to cut it.

Members of the wedding party, then the guests, may cut their own cake or a waiter or some friend of the family may take over the knife.

The serving of two separate cakes, one for the bride, another for the groom, is almost obsolete. Today the bride's cake is the only one featured. Light or dark fruit cakes, pound cakes, silver or golden layer cakes, with white or very light pastel frostings, are suitable.

Often at large weddings only the married couple and members of the bridal party receive pieces of the bride's cake. Individual pieces of cake, in small boxes bearing silver initials—the first letter of the bride's surname and the first letter of the bride-groom's in the lower left corner—are left where each guest may take one "to dream on."

Short Dinner Dress Here to Stay

Girls with pretty legs are in luck again, for the short dinner dress has come to stay for the duration. These short dresses and suits are almost always black, and reach just below the knee. They have a more festive air than the usual afternoon dress. Sometimes the suggestion of formality is the cut of the neck only, as in a simple black crepe with velvet midriff, and low, square neck. Again it depends on a sheer beaded yoke.

In the case of suits, pretty pastel satin dummies or blouses tell your public that this is no ordinary street costume, but that you're going on to some little dinner or the theatre.

WHEN TO WEAR THEM

Remember, though, that this vogue of informality for dinner doesn't mean you can wear such a short dinner dress in the morning, for no matter how pretty your neck and shoulders, it somehow still doesn't seem just right to expose them to the public gaze at 9 a.m. To be on the safe side, don't appear in these short dinner dresses until after 5 o'clock. If you can't change after work, you're safer in a black suit, made festive by a dressy blouse which just peeps above the neckline.

Always these short dinner dresses and suits are worn with dinner type hats.

ACCESSORIES

Madonna shawls of black-crocheted yarn, adorned by black or colored sequins.

Big braided bags, or bags with tassels, are new with braid-trimmed, short dinner suits.

Shoes for short formal black must be especially gay, too. Here you will find suede pumps or sandals or step-ins with cut-out toes. These are enriched by jet bead buckles, or buckles of colored plastic. Sometimes big pearls grace the instep, or tassels or colored sequins. Anything dressier in footwear is intended for the long dinner skirt.

A little one and a big one, both cute. At left is a clever, open-crowned baby sailor in bright pink and white stripes. At right, a big cartwheel of bird's-eye pique, trimmed with rick-rack braid.

Flattering Hat Charmers For Summer Brides

With each new cut in the supply of felts, fabrics and straw milliners have to work with, they seem to master just that much more ingenuity in turning out the smartest, gayest and most flattering hats to be had.

Cotton is their pet this season, and with such low-cost fabrics as denim, pillow-ticking, pique, organdie and gingham, milliners are making the most expensive-looking and exciting models in their summer lines.

Gay gingham and striped denim matchmates—hats with bags, gloves or belts of the same fabric—are proving to be the most popular of the cotton clan, for they have a way of making that one navy blue or black summer sheer look like a never-ending wardrobe.

Especially chic is a petite and pert sailor of pink and white striped denim, with a ruffled brim and open crown banded both inside and outside with a bit of black ribbon. And another model made of the same material is fashioned after the so-becoming sunbonnet of grandma's day, and has a matching oversized envelope bag.

Up till now government restrictions has let well enough alone with milady's millinery, but come Fall they may have something to say about just how big brims shall be, and how much material may go into them. So, if you've always wanted to wear a cartwheel or skimmer, now's the time to indulge that desire.

One of the prettiest picture hats of this sort is a shallow-crowned scoop-brimmed cartwheel of white bird's-eye pique trimmed with rick rack braid, which not only flatteringly frames the face and pampers the pompadour, but stays "put" when a gust of wind comes along.

For a bit more formal wear there are doll-sized sailors of layer-upon-layer of starched organdie or shirred cotton lace, which are as light and airy as whipped cream. Team them up with lingerie blouses, gilets or collar and cuff sets for dainty, feminine effect.

And for those who want just an "excuse" of a hat, there is that little bit of nonsense—the baby bonnet. Shaped to hug the head and skirt the pompadour, it can be worn au naturel with cotton frocks, as you would a beanie, or dressed up with jeweled clips or bunches of colored imitation flowers.

ONLY three more weeks till John and I are married. It's going to be a beautiful wedding... formal, but simple. I chose my dress yesterday... it's a dream in soft, white, misty net. I just sigh with delight every time I take a peek at it. I had such a hard time choosing though... all the dresses were so lovely in crisp taffeta, silk crepe, satin and chiffon. They're very beguiling with softly moulded bodices, flattering necklines and full swishing skirts. John's sister, my only attendant, has chosen a pale pink chiffon with a wee round neck and long sleeves. I'll have to watch her or she'll look even more radiant than I. But one of the things that pleased me most was that my "dream dress" cost me a mere 19.75, and there were others equally lovely at Spencer's starting as low as 15.95.

We're Getting Married Sometime in June...

Oh... and I'll be specially sure to cloak myself in the sweet fragrance of Rubinstein's Apple Blossom Perfume. That's just one of those little, yet very important items John says he loves me for... the utterly feminine, blossom-fresh perfume I use. I choose both perfume and cologne for 1.25.

Groom Takes Responsibility For Some Arrangements

The bride and her family are responsible for most of the wedding expenses.

With a budget that can be spent on this important occasion and with a list of expenses in mind, they decide what kind of wedding they can afford, what features they consider most worthy of emphasis. Happily for most budgets, it is not so much the amount of money spent as how it is spent that determines the charm of a wedding. The secret is in careful planning, wise forethought, and intelligent attention to every detail.

EXPENSES OF BRIDE AND HER FAMILY

Bride's wedding costume.
Bride's trousseau and household linens.

All expenses connected with the wedding invitations, cards, announcements.

All expenses (with the exception of fee or gift to the minister), connected with the church or wherever the ceremony is to be performed, floral decorations, music, fees.

All expenses connected with the reception or wedding breakfast or dinner, wherever it takes place; floral decoration, food, music, service and so forth.

Bouquets of the bridal attendants, maid of honor, bridesmaids, flower girls.

Gifts to the bridal attendants.
Bridal photographs.
Cars for the bridal party.

THE BRIDEGROOM HAS HIS EXPENSES

Wedding ring.
Marriage license.

Wedding present to the bride.
Bride's bouquet (usually).

A corsage for the bride's mother and a corsage for his mother.

The fee or gift to the minister.
Gifts to his best man and ushers, and also their ties, gloves and boutonnieres.

The car in which he and his best man come to the ceremony.
Expenses of the wedding trip.

Sometimes the bride's family buys the bouquet for the bride as well as those of her attendants, but usually the bridegroom abides by the romantic custom of buying his bride's bouquet.

The bridegroom may also ask for the privilege of paying for the flowers for the bride's attendants, consulting with the bride about her choice for these flowers.

The thoughtful bridegroom remembers to send his bride a corsage to wear with her traveling costume.

Pink-and-white denim creates the old-fashioned sunbonnet in the model pictured above. There's a huge, matching envelope bag to go with it.

For the bride's "going away"—a softly tailored traveling suit of wool. Keyed-in accessories are yellow blouse, straw fedora, alligator bag and suede gloves.

The summer trousseau's mainstay—a natural shantung two-piece dress, suitable for a morning's marketing or a Saturday night's partying. The belt matches the bag. All-purpose coat is of wool.

Weddings Today Informal In Keeping With Times

To the bride her wedding day is a most memorable and momentous occasion. If it is to be kept that way, all the endless details must be planned well in advance so that nothing will spoil or mar its perfection.

Since the beginning of the war large, extravagant weddings have almost completely been superseded by the simple wedding and reception. Don't think that means it is easier to make plans. The smaller and more intimate ceremony—the more perfect it must be.

The time and size for a wedding determines the type of reception that will be most fitting.

Morning weddings are generally small, intimate affairs, attended only by members of the immediate families and very close friends, and the wedding breakfast that follows is typed the same way. High noon weddings also are followed by a "breakfast" of either buffet or sit-down style. Afternoon is favored by many brides for the wedding hour—and is succeeded by a reception similar in arrangement to an afternoon tea party. The evening wedding reception can be either the buffet type or similar to the afternoon reception.

WEDDING BREAKFASTS

This type of reception follows a morning wedding. Usually the number of guests is small, limited to the bridal party, a few relatives and close friends. Guests are seated for refreshments, either at one table or a number of small ones. Food served is generally hot and of the same buffet luncheon standing the same as the guests, or in the case of a speedy departure are served in a separate room with their attendants.

Canada Not Consulted
On New Air Plans

OTTAWA (CP)—Prime Minister King today told the House of Commons Wednesday afternoon that no conversations had been initiated between Canada and the United Kingdom with respect to an empire plan for development of postwar civil aviation.

He said, also, that Canada had not been approached by the United Kingdom government regarding representation for Canada on the board of British Overseas Airways Corporation, or the formation of some similar body.

Mr. King said he would communicate to the House the government's policy in these matters "in due course."

Money By Bagful
For Mayor's Fund

Money by the bagful came into the city this week for the Lord Mayor of London's Fund for relief of air raid victims.

A. Joyce, city cashier, took the donation, four paper bags of dimes, nickels and pennies, totaling $44.

Deposited by an adult, the sum was reported to be proceeds from a circus held by children of Dewdney Avenue.

Revelstoke Pioneer Dies

REVELSTOKE (CP)—Mrs. Sarah Watson, 82, one of Revelstoke's pioneer residents, is dead. Born in Paddington, England, she came to Canada with her husband in 1883. Surviving her are three sons and one daughter.

One of Mrs. Watson's grandsons was the late Seaman Kenneth Watson, whose distinguished conduct on H.M.C.S. Assiniboine last August in its battle with a German submarine won him fame. He was fatally wounded in the encounter.

LUXTON

Parents and friends' night, held by the Luxton Troop of Boy Scouts and Luxton Cub Pack, was successful. Opening ceremonies were followed by investiture of Mrs. C. Hancock as cub mistress by assistant Scout commissioner, Freeman King, who with G. Hutcheon inspected the troop. A short program followed, including a series of inter-trait competitions in knots, lashings, signaling and relay races, interspersed by recitations by the Cubs and songs by Billy Hancock. Scout Commissioner King addressed the parents on arrangements for the summer camp. An honor pennant was presented to Patrol Leader Don Heaslip of the Fox Patrol. Mrs. Hancock, Cub mistress, conducted the closing ceremonies.

The annual meeting of Luxton Hall will be held June 7 at 8.

B.C. Japanese Groom Vegetables, Flowers in Ontario

Japanese labor is being employed on at least two farms in Etobicoke and Toronto townships in Ontario to relieve a situation which had reached the point of desperation. Last autumn John Elford had to leave part of his crop in the ground and at the beginning of this season he was faced with the necessity of closing down his flower and vegetable farm for lack of labor. National Selective Service told him several Japanese were available for the type of employment he required. He readily accepted and said he was far from sorry. Winston Hayashi, left, two-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Hayashi, Japanese employees on the Elford farm, emulates his famous "namesake," Winston Churchill, fashioning a "V for Victory" and "thumbs up." Tomato plants in this greenhouse, right, are being cultivated by four Japanese, left to right, Paul Hirano from Slooan, B.C.; Kazuo "Tom" Mekino from Haney, B.C.; Keyoshi Nakai, a lawyer from Vancouver Island; Frank Hayashi of Vancouver.

Women Clerks Sought
For Air Force Jobs

Girls of high academic standing and integrity are required by the R.C.A.F. (W.D.) for training as clerk operations, it was learned today from SO. J. F. Stewart, who, with Cpl. B. Cotter arrived Tuesday from Vancouver with a mobile recruiting unit in charge of FO. J. L. Drummond, R.C.A.F., and is now stationed at the Stratheona Hotel.

A fighter operations room is the nerve centre of the fighter defence, and crew members are employed to plot the position of all aircraft flying within the area, liaison with radio location stations, navigational dead reckoning, radio direction, finding and firing.

"All these operations require speed, accuracy and efficiency," remarked SO. Stewart this morning, as she explained that the trade designation as clerk operations fighter and clerk operations filter does not imply clerical duties.

Women university students, or girls having matriculation standing, will be interviewed for this trade at the Stratheona Hotel until Friday, when the Women's Division recruiting unit will leave Victoria. The R.C.A.F. unit will remain longer.

Bridgewood Installed
As Eagles' President

William Bridgewood today embarked on his second term as president of F.O.E. No. 12, Victoria, following an installation ceremony conducted Wednesday night by C. Hogan, past president, and W. Wilson, acting representative of the grand aerie.

Other officers installed were: J. A. Paine, vice-president; W. Griffin, chaplain; J. Wright, conductor; W. Yeamans, inside guard; G. Ree, outside guard; D. Essler, trustee; M. P. Paine, treasurer, and J. Wilmshurst, secretary.

Mr. Bridgewood, thanking members for their co-operation, said membership had increased by 704 to 1,343 in the past year, and the total purchases of Victory Bonds by the aerie now amounted to $19,500.

Overseas Battalion
Requirements Listed

Women's Auxiliary to the Canadian Scottish Regiment met Wednesday afternoon at Government House, Mrs. S. J. McDonald in the chair.

A letter was read from the officer commanding overseas battalion in which the estimated requirements for the battalion for one year were given as follows: 1,000 pairs of socks; 100 sleeveless sweaters; 500 turtle-neck scarfs, and between 4,000 and 5,000 handkerchiefs.

The welfare convenor stated assistance was given to a member of the regimental family in Vancouver.

A quilt was on display, the squares being the work of the members. The ladies of the Oak Bay United Church Red Cross Unit completed the quilting for the auxiliary.

Members were shown moving pictures by Mr. Douglas Flintoff of the inspection by H.K.H. Princess Royal of the 1st Battalion overseas. This film recently arrived in Victoria for safe keeping.

James Bay Rezoning
For Mill Protested

Protests against a proposal to rezone a James Bay waterfront area to permit erection of a sawmill were voiced at the City Hall Wednesday evening by delegates of 60 residents of the district.

The meeting was called by the lands and zoning committee for the purpose of hearing residents' views on the scheme which would establish the plant on the foreshore below the north side of Erie Street, west of St. Lawrence.

Application for the change was made by A. Y. Johnston who said his plans called for an electric mill, which, in addition to cutting lumber, would provide some fuel, and would permit extended operations for which he had no other available site. He said his company was now shipping five booms of logs a week to Vancouver for cutting and said his present mill is providing material for construction of bombers.

Spokesmen for residents said the construction of a mill on the proposed site would depreciate the homesite value of the district, would add to its ragged appearance and would create noise, smoke and other nuisances. Operation of a mill, one spokesman said, would endanger the sewer outflow at that point. Another urged the area be reserved for future development, possibly as a seaplane base.

The meeting adjourned with an assurance from Ald. T. W. Hawkins, lands and zoning committee chairman, that residents would be given ample time to prepare petitions for submission to the council if his group recommended amendment of the by-law.

First Silkworm Eggs

Hatching of the first group of silk worm eggs at a school this year has been reported to Cecil French by Monterey School in Oak Bay.

Forty-six pupils in the senior and intermediate classes, under their teacher, Mrs. Marion S. Powell, interested themselves in the project, and the worms were hatched June 1.

"There was great excitement at the school, and though the primary purpose of the project is the teaching of biology, it may eventually have commercial possibilities on the island," Mr. French, who introduced the silk worms into Victoria schools, stated.

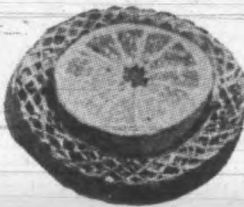

With Allied occupation of north Africa Germany lost its supply of phosphates; without this soil fertilizer its food supply will be reduced.

SOFTBALLERS had better get busy and do something about these scoreless games. Navy and R.C.A.F. Flyers have played 16 innings without a single runner slipping across the plate. It's a bad situation from the viewpoint of the spectators. The fans like to see hits and runs. Just what the league moguls can do is a problem, unless they get next to pitchers Syd Stebbings and Harry Braverman and persuade them to let the boys hit the ball.

Every time these two hurlers engage in a pitching duel they literally ham string the hitters. On their exhibitions to date we would say they could go on indefinitely without allowing a run. The next time these clubs are scheduled the league might be smart to bill just the one game and the customers might get a chance to watch a real marathon. If the clubs could play 14 or 15 innings that would be something for the fans to talk about. These no-decision games are not popular.

There's a funny situation come up in the softball circuit. Twice this season the V.M.D. have scored wins over the Navy. In games against the R.C.A.F. the shipbuilders have finished on the short end of the score. Yet the Flyers are experiencing the toughest time trying to get a decision over the bluejackets.

An interested spectator at Tuesday's games was G. C. Grant, well-known cricketer. He was telling us that Major Cobbett, long-recognized as about the finest pitcher to ever work off a softball pitching mound in this city, is now a resident of Australia. Cobbett hurled for the Garrison club when the sport was first introduced here and could really make the ball break. He introduced some of his cricket tricks to the game. His battery mate was Major Hughes, another first-class cricketer. Old-time followers still talk about Cobbett's great mound performances.

Soccer officials in British Columbia should get busy and draw up a 12-month schedule and be done with it. We heard today of plans for another competition between representative clubs from Victoria and Vancouver in July in aid of the Red Cross. That will leave just two months before the round ball artists open another season.

It is about time soccer gave recognition to other sports and confined itself to a definite season. Players are not in favor of such a long-drawn out campaign and with the weather enjoyed. In this province there is no earthly reason for the game to be played in the summer months. Closing the season out at the end of April would give the soccer people a seven-months' run and not crowd the sport into the summer months. When the Connaught Cup series was being contested and the season was prolonged to accommodate the prairie and eastern clubs there was a sound reason for the long season. But the Canadian playoff is out for the duration and soccer leaders in B.C. should set their season accordingly.

Gunder Haegg Makes U.S. Debut July 1

STOCKHOLM (AP)—American track fans, impatient for a glimpse of the running form of Gunder Haegg, Sweden's sensational distance performer, will have to be patient about a month longer. The record-smashing athlete won't be able to make his United States debut before July 1.

He is scheduled to arrive in New Orleans aboard the tanker Saturnus June 8, but it will take him three weeks to lose his sea legs, which means he will miss the A.A.U. championships in New York June 19 and 20.

Novikoff Returns, Nicholson Starts Powdering Ball

CHICAGO (AP)—Lou Novikoff has been back with the Chicago Cubs a week now since ending his 61-day holdout, and those base hits are really rolling out. But they're off of Bill Nicholson's bat, not Novikoff's.

The solid, 200-pound Cub right-fielder hit at a .419 rate in the first seven days since the Mad Russian's return, and has boosted his average from .281 to .310 in this span.

Nicholson, who thinks no baseball season is a success unless he gets at least 20 home runs, went 32 games without a four-bagger this year—and then blossomed out with four in nine times at bat.

During this "hot" period, too, he drove in 10 runs.

Nick has been the Cub's best home-run hitter since he played his first full season in the majors in 1940. He hit 25 homers that year, 26 the next and 21 last season.

Nicholson was the only Cub outfielder from whom heavy hitting was expected this spring, while Novikoff was holding out. Maybe that's why Nick wasn't hitting—too much pressure—until the Russian signed up and the customers started cheering loudest when Lou came to bat.

Momentarily out of the spotlight, Nicholson began to clout the ball. He made three hits the day of Novikoff's debut, and slugged on to get 13 hits in 31 times at bat—including those four home runs.

Jack Adams Hopes To Continue Hockey

FORT WILLIAM (CP)—Jack Adams, manager of the Detroit Red Wings in the National Hockey League, declared here Wednesday he expected to lose half of his championship team to the armed forces but hoped reinforcements from other sources would enable his club to continue in operation next season.

"It's hard to say but I think we will operate again much as usual," Adams said. "I didn't look like we would do anything last winter, but we had one of our best seasons."

Adams came to the lakehead to visit his sister, Helen, a nursing sister in the R.C.A.M.C.

They'll Do It Every Time

Dodgers Cling to Top Halt St. Louis 3-2

Looks Part

St. Louis Cardinals may be the world's champions, or, as manager Billy Southworth calls them, the world's greatest ball club, but Brooklyn Dodgers have to be rated as the most dogged, determined gang of die-hards in the major leagues.

This spring the Cardinals have sparkled and glittered and won the admiration of all their rivals in the National League.

The Dodgers haven't looked good, a collection of old geezers with aches and pains. Yet the Dodgers have held first place since the first day of the season and nothing the Cardinals have been able to do has been sufficient to dislodge them.

Wednesday night they seemed ready to fall. The Cardinals humiliated all the Dodgers' strongest, fastest pitchers and were within half a game of taking over the lead.

Leo Durocher had to take a chance on the only lefthander he has on his staff, Max Macon, who hasn't pitched a complete ball game all season. Macon still hasn't pitched a complete game, but he beat the Cardinals to even their four-game series and restored Brooklyn to a game and a half lead. The score was 3 to 2.

AMERICAN LEAGUE

Meanwhile, the American League scramble for first place became even closer than the National as Chicago White Sox whipped New York Yankees 2 to 1, and Washington Senators squeaked Cleveland Indians 13 to 1 in a night game. This lumped the Yanks and Senators in a virtual tie for the lead, although New York had the benefit of a few percentage points.

Detroit held onto third place by beating Philadelphia Athletics 7 to 2 behind five-hit hurling by Frank (Stubby) Overmire, and St. Louis Browns and Boston Red Sox divided another pair of extra inning games. Browns took the first 7 to 2 in 12 innings and the Red Sox retaliated in the nightcap 3 to 2 in 10 innings.

In the National League Cincinnati and Pittsburgh continued in a tie for third place. The Reds walloped New York Giants 13 to 6.

The Pittsburgh Pirates came from behind in a night game to beat Boston Braves 3 to 2.

The Phillies nosed out Chicago Cubs 6 to 5.

AMERICAN LEAGUE

Speed-Up Baseball Draws Criticism From Bill Harridge

By HUGH FULLERTON

NEW YORK (AP)—"Speed-up" baseball sounds like a good idea to a lot of folks, but President Bill Harridge of the American League doesn't think it will work very well. For one thing, the umpire can't do much but hurry the players along between innings, and if they try to cut short the pitchers' antics on the mound they're liable to hear a lot of pointed, ear-burning questions from the managers about whether they have a date that night. Besides, Harridge adds, "We played a night game in an hour and 29 minutes recently, and the fans didn't get enough. They had to flick the lights a few times to start them moving out."

COMEBACK MONEY

Tony Galento, throwing love pats, scored a knockout on Herbie Katz.

The commission asked: "What could be worse?"

And then impounding Tony's purse.

Kenneth Jones, Peoria (Ill.) Journal-Transcript: "If track athletes trained as listlessly as ball players, we'd hear more about the five-minute mile than the four-minute mile."

Jimmy Cronzy: "...A guy told me I was crazy the other day when I said I had managed about 30 champions. Well, I put them down and I've managed five men who held eight world titles—Johnny Dundee, Ted Kid Lewis, Harry Greb, Pete Latzo and Mike McGuire. Besides, that I've had the holders of 24 British and Empire titles and 19 Italian and European titles. No so and so in the world can beat hat."

Softballers Play Twin Bill Tonight

Senior men's softball clubs will hold forth at the Athletic Park tonight with their regular double-header, starting at 6:15.

In the opening clash, the R.C.A.F. will battle the Army, followed by a meeting between the Navy and Victoria Machinery Depot.

Section C men's games Wednesday night saw Gordon Head O.T.C. mark up their sixth straight win at the expense of Pacific Sheet Metal 8 to 3; K.V.'s defeat Spence Products 7 to 2, and Esquimalt whip Spencers 11 to 10.

In a women's game Sports Club turned Victoria Box 29 to 14.

R.A.F. Cricketers Defeat Spencers

By the margin of five wickets R.A.F. cricketers defeated Spencers Wednesday afternoon. Spencers put on 113, featured by Vale's 75, with the R.A.F. coming back to score 118.

For the Flyers-Bellamy with 37 and Webb with 32 were high scorers.

With three wickets for 22 runs, Butt was the top bowler for the Flyers, while Vale took two for 17 for Spencers.

Salmonbellies Will Continue in Boxla

NEW WESTMINSTER (CP)—Coach Grumpy Spring of New Westminster Salmonbellies announced today the team would carry on its half-century lacrosse tradition by entering the Inter-city League with Richmond, Burrards and probably an army team.

It had been feared that Salmonbellies, perennial winners of Dominion lacrosse honors, would cease to function this season since 11 of last year's players now are in uniform. This year's team will be made up of juveniles and four former players now in uniform who will be granted leave to play on the civilian squad. The season opener is slated for Monday.

Jas. Fraser Dies

EDMONTON (CP)—James Fraser, 54, prominent sportsman and former professional soccer player in England, died Wednesday after a lengthy illness.

He played professional soccer for Clyde in Scotland, and for a time in Edmonton he was playing manager of the Canadian National Railways soccer team. He was also a member of the Vets' football club.

As storekeeper for the C.N.R. he worked in Edmonton, Winnipeg, North Battleford and Saskatoon, and came to Edmonton from Winnipeg a short time before he was taken ill.

Fraser was born in Glasgow, Scotland, and came to Canada in 1910. A sister, Mrs. A. Smith, lives at Port Alberni, B.C.

Three Homers Ball Feature

V.M.D. Turn Back Army Nine 9 to 2

Towering home runs off the bats of Ace Lowe, Babe Work and Elmer Kreiler, featured the 9 to 2 victory scored by the league-leading Victoria Machinery Depot over the Army in Wednesday night's senior ball game.

Although the score was one-sided, the fans got plenty of entertainment out of the heavy hitting with a total of 21 base knocks, 12 of which went to the shipbuilders. In addition to the homers three doubles were smacked, being collected by Work and Reg. Patterson of the V.M.D., and Julian Sawchuk of the Army.

Army started off like they were really going to make it a tough evening for last year's champions when Kreiler lifted Tommy Musgrave's first over the centre field wall. The fans gave the well-known hockey star a big hand. V.M.D. came right back in their half of the inning to push two runners home. Babe Work led off with a double into left field. After Harney and Patterson had been retired, Lowe caught one on the nose and the ball ended up on Pembroke Street.

After a scoreless second inning, Work performed the home run trick in the third. Army got their second and final run in the fourth.

Hayman On Grid Future

West-East League

By CHARLES EDWARDS—TORONTO (CP)—Before the war the highlight of the Canadian football season was the annual east-west game. For the postwar era one of Canada's greatest grid authorities, FO-Lew Hayman, predicts formation of an interprovincial league comprising eight teams, four from the west and four from the east.

"There won't be any transportation problem," Lew told Dink Carroll of the Montreal Gazette. "Air travel will make the difference."

Basis for the eight-team league would be the long-established eastern and western interprovincial unions, Ottawa Roughriders, Montreal, Toronto Argos, and Hamilton Tigers were the old eastern Big Four teams. Lew says Winnipeg, Edmonton, Regina and probably Calgary would be the western cities represented. Somebody has been selling him on the future of Edmonton for Lew commented: "Edmonton is one of the biggest boom cities in North America right now. It's the key to the whole northwestern part of the country and that's the part that's being developed now and will be further developed after the war."

PREDICTS GREAT FUTURE As coach of many championship teams, including the current national champions, Toronto R.C.A.F.—Hurricanes, Hayman should know whereof he talks. A regular east-west league does seem far-fetched, however. Two good leagues with the Grey Cup final as the climax seems a better set-up.

Hayman doesn't think wartime football equals the peacetime brand. He sees a great future for the Canadian game, however. He's sold on the rouge and thinks the United States would be wise to incorporate it into the American game.

"When a team gets ready to punt in American football that's when the crowd starts reading its papers or yelling for a hotdog," he says. "The crowd knows the ball is going out of bounds and that nothing exciting will happen. Up here the crowd tenses up at that moment, knowing its going to see some exciting action. That's the payoff on the play. If the pros ever try it out over there, the crowds will go overboard for it."

Harney's single to drive in two runs and an error paved the way for three V.M.D. runs in the fifth and, just to make victory secure, the leaders added a single in the seventh and two in the eighth.

MUSGRAVE FANS 10

Speedball artist Musgrave struck out 10 as he retained his undefeated record for the season. Hit hard in the early stages of the game the big right-hander had matters well under control as play progressed. He struck out 10 and gave up only one walk.

Gerry Whitney worked for the Army, but failed to show his usual form. The Army hurler was making his pitches too good and the hard-hitting V.M.D. crew took full advantage of the Sunday offerings. Whitney struck out one and gave up three walks.

With three for four, first-sacker Work continued his fine hitting streak, which was matched by shortstop Nick Metz of the Army, who grabbed off three singles in four trips to the plate.

Friday night's game will see the third-place R.C.A.F. hook up with the Eagles, occupants of the cellar. Eagles will be out, seeking their first victory of the season.

Short score: R. H. E. Army 2 9 2 V.M.D. 9 12 3 Batteries: Whitney and Sawchuk; Musgrave and Harney.

R.A.F. Footballers Defeat V.M.D. 3 to 1

Opening their best-of-three series for possession of the Solarium Cup, donated by Alderman John Worthington, R.A.F. footballers defeated Victoria Machinery Depot 3 to 1 Wednesday night. Second match will be played next Wednesday at Macdonald Park.

Proceeds from the series will be turned over to the Solarium Junior League.

R.A.F. opened the scoring in the first half when Truscott scored from a penalty for hands by Duncan. V.M.D. were awarded a penalty for this same offence, but Alvin Parks shot wide of the goal. Taking a pass from Reg Clarkson, George Payne tied the score.

Second half saw the R.A.F. fire home two goals to win, with Cox and Craig being responsible. Dave McMillan refereed.

There are mountains to climb, hidden caves to explore, trails to hike over and warm sand beaches where you can play or rest. There are restful, comfortable, cottage camps, resort inns and summer hotels, all run with an eye to giving you a wartime vacation you'll love—and long remember.

If you intend to travel by bus or train try and arrange it for a Tuesday, Wednesday or Thursday of the week instead of the week-end, as you have been used to doing in the past. Week-ends are extra busy days for buses and trains. They are usually crowded with men of the services going or coming on leave.

You will be doing your bit toward keeping things running smoothly if you make your plans for the middle of the week. Holidays, like working hours, can be staggered to meet present day conditions.

Again I would like to make the suggestion that you make up your mind as soon as possible just where on Vancouver Island you intend to go for your summer vacation. Then write at once and make arrangements for accommodation. Do this and you will help the owner of that summer resort not only to plan ahead for the many things that go into the every day life of a vacation spot, but to arrange the little extra details that assure you of real comfort and good fun.

Continue Rate Aid On Feed Grains

OTTAWA (CP) — Agriculture Minister Gardiner has announced officially that the free freight assistance policy on prairie grains shipped to eastern Canada and British Columbia for feeding of livestock is to be continued.

"This policy was introduced in October, 1941, and in June, 1942, was renewed, to continue indefinitely," Mr. Gardiner's statement said.

"It provides for the payment by the Dominion government of the transportation charges on feed grains from Port Arthur, Port Arthur to destinations in eastern Canada, and from Edmonton and Calgary to British Columbia points."

From Oct. 20, 1941, to last April 30 a total of $14,287,268 was paid against claims for freight assistance by the six provinces concerned. Ontario payments were $4,929,642, Quebec $5,434,905, New Brunswick $978,277, Nova Scotia $1,309,049, Prince Edward Island $320,226, and British Columbia $1,315,267.

"Oats and barley continue to be governed under the price ceiling regulations," said Mr. Gardiner. "This means that the price of these grains cannot advance above the ceiling levels set as of the basic period, Sept. 15 to Oct. 11, 1941."

British Columbia Film Shown in Egypt

A film in sound and color entitled "Beautiful British Columbia" was recently shown to Canadian troops serving in Egypt. It was announced today by the Government Travel Bureau.

"These films certainly do get around," said E. G. Rowebottom, deputy minister of trade and industry, and we look upon them as a remarkably fine investment. No more exciting way has yet been invented of telling our story than by motion pictures."

Mr. Rowebottom said this film has been shown in 33,000 theatres in Canada, the United States, Great Britain and elsewhere and has been sounded in Spanish and Portuguese for the Latin American market.

Lack of Tubes Here Halts Radio Repairs

Thirty-six radios, mostly mantle size, some of which have been in three Victoria radio repair shops for as long as three months awaiting repair, cannot be handled because of a serious shortage of tubes, dealers stated today.

"We have no indication as to whether the situation will improve and business in repairs is increasing all the time," Stanley Ireland, manager of Kent-Roach Ltd. radio repair department, stated today. "There are 20 radio sets here, some of which have been here two and three months; they are mostly five-tube mantle sets."

Tubes for the small radios are particularly short, he said, and the department received less than 25 per cent of its last order. A jobber in Vancouver informed him that one tube will cease to be manufactured for civilian use for the duration.

"Some tubes are interchangeable and some are not, but we're trying to work a substitute for some of the sets," he said.

G. Murdoch, manager of Fletcher Brothers' repair department, said they had no sets on hand awaiting repair but added that army, navy and air force use of the small radio tube supply left the civilian market short. Radio Appliance Company has 12 sets waiting for tube repairs and MacDonald Electric Limited has four. Ellison G. Queale, wholesale supplier, said the shortage affected the trade seriously because tubes are the chief item in the parts business.

"We haven't had a decent shipment since November, and 30 dealers told us for parts," he stated, adding that at present he is not receiving 10 per cent of his normal demand for tubes.

Associated Radio Technicians of B.C. are endeavoring to have the situation improved, according to report, and have protested to Ottawa. The Vancouver branch complained to the Wartime Prices and Trade Board that British Columbia was being treated unfairly in the matter of distribution.

Production for war orders, increasing difficulties in getting raw materials, and government regulations as to priorities, were reasons given for the acute shortage of radio tubes by Canadian Westinghouse Ltd. at Vancouver, in a letter to Mr. Queale today.

"We hope for some relief in the not distant future, following representations which are being made by the manufacturers to Ottawa at the present time," the letter said. "We doubt, however, if the present condition of acute shortage will be fully relieved for some time."

Bill Dempsey, 145 Beechwood Avenue, told city police Wednesday his bicycle had been stolen from Victoria High School.

TOWN TOPICS

James Gladstone, age 14, of 122 Cambridge Street, suffered slight bruises and his bicycle was damaged Wednesday afternoon when he and a car being backed from the curb on Douglas Street by Hugh H. Massey, Work Point, collided.

Thomas E. Drysdale, 1730 Cook Street, was fined $15 and $3 costs on two counts laid under the Motor Vehicle Act in provincial police court Wednesday. Albert J. Thomas, J.P., presided. Drysdale was fined $10 for failing to display a red flag on an overhanging lumber load, and $3 for not displaying conspicuously a truck license.

The long-pending trial of Film City Ltd. was adjourned until another week when the case was called in city police court today. J. S. Brandon appearing for one of the directors of the company asked an adjournment because the company counsel had another case today. W. H. M. Haldane is prosecuting the charge of selling securities without license.

A recommendation will go from the parks committee to the City Council for expenditure of $200 on a playing field site for boys on Cook, Hillside and Higgins property. The committee, meeting Wednesday, decided it had no power to grant the Canadian Red Cross Society's request for permission to operate a mobile canteen in Beacon Hill Park. The latter question will be discussed by the health committee.

Replies to a questionnaire concerning postwar problems sent to the Chamber of Commerce by the Canadian Institute of International Affairs will be read at a meeting of the chamber's board of directors on Thursday at 4.

The questionnaire was sent to the Chamber some time ago and about one month ago at a meeting a committee of representative members was named to reply to the queries. The committee consisted of a retailer, lumber manufacturer, social worker and operator of a large cleaning establishment, and will, in the opinion of the board of directors, represent a fairly cross-section opinion. The replies will be read individually at the meeting at which executive members of the chamber will be invited to attend.

Dealing with Canada's part in the "transportation" weapon, Mr. McAllister said "More than 10,000 ships flying the flag of 17 different nations have sailed in cargo protected by Canadian escort vessels, with a loss of less than 20 vessels."

He described also how Canada and the United States have integrated their transportation facilities by rushing machine tools wherever they are needed, regardless of borders; by Canada's construction of a chain of airports along the fog-free, fog-free course to Alaska, by the construction of United States army engineers of the highway to Alaska, and by the building of a pipeline to Montreal to refuel trans-Atlantic ships.

ANNIHILATOR
"But production and transportation alone are not enough. Our weapons must not only reach the enemy, they must be pressed home," Mr. McAllister said.

In this, he said, annihilation of the enemy was the only answer. "Let us make no mistake, the winsomeness of words will not win for us. Brute force knows only one language, and that is the brutal language of force. Cruelty knows of nothing but cruelty; conquerors understand nothing but conquest, and killers know nothing but death."

Mr. McAllister then told of the necessity of keeping in our minds and hearts the plans for rehabilitating the world when the war is won. "Otherwise all our struggles and sacrifices will have been in vain," he said.

Dealing with each of the weapons, Mr. McAllister told of the contribution being made by Kiwanis in each aspect of the struggle, and in conclusion he urged Kiwanians to hold fast to the principal tenets of their philosophy that the prime values of life are human and spiritual, not material.

Gilbert E. Gee, C.A., of Ismay Bolton & Co., will address a luncheon meeting of the Real Estate Board at Spencer's tomorrow at 12.30. Mr. Gee's subject will be "Dominion Income Tax."

Kiwanis Leader Reviews Weapons Against Enemy

"Production, transportation, annihilation and rehabilitation—these are the weapons which we wield against an enemy that has forged a ring of steel around the world and threatens to choke us," Fred G. McAllister of London, Ont., national president of Kiwanis International, told the Victoria members at a luncheon meeting in the Empress today.

Speaking on "The Weapons We Wield," Mr. McAllister said that the enemy had a seven years' start on production, and though they now had the slave labor of conquered countries to draw from, they had discovered that "the whip on the back of bleeding slave labor cannot out-produce the whirl of factories filled with free men and women."

Quoting figures to show how the production end of the battle was progressing, Mr. McAllister said "In Canada floor space devoted to airplane production has jumped from 500,000 square feet to over 5,000,000; the cost of the air training program is $5,000,000,000 for the first three years, more than the total annual tax bill in normal times; where another $5,000,000,000 has been allocated to the merchant shipping and naval program, multiplying our navy from 15 ships to approximately 500, and where annual exports of essential foodstuffs have reached from 50,000,000 to over 180,000,000."

Dealing with Canada's part in the "transportation" weapon, Mr. McAllister said "More than 10,000 ships flying the flag of 17 different nations have sailed in cargo protected by Canadian escort vessels, with a loss of less than 20 vessels."

He described also how Canada and the United States have integrated their transportation facilities by rushing machine tools wherever they are needed, regardless of borders; by Canada's construction of a chain of airports along the fog-free, fog-free course to Alaska, by the construction of United States army engineers of the highway to Alaska, and by the building of a pipeline to Montreal to refuel trans-Atlantic ships.

To Cut Manpower Waste

New Army Medical Plan Reveals Physical Profile

Under a new plan of medical grading, thousands of Canadians now ineligible for army service overseas because they have been placed in category "C" will be reclassified and drafted.

The plan, originated in Canada, has been adopted by army headquarters and will be put into effect across the Dominion, but so far no word of it has been received by Pacific Command, according to the Command Public Relations Office.

The new plan, known as the "Pulhems" system, discloses at a glance the profile of a man's physical condition, whether he is fit for service of any type and, if so, what type.

The name "Pulhems" is derived from the initial letters of words describing seven basic human factors: Physique, upper body and limbs, lower limbs and locomotion, hearing, eyesight, mentality, and emotional stability.

HOW IT WORKS
A man in perfect condition would be graded thus:

P U L H E M S

1 1 1 1 1 1 1

Another man with flat feet but otherwise normal would get this grading:

P U L H E M S

1 1 3 1 1 1 1

A third man with defective hearing, who was also underweight, might be classed as follows:

P U L H E M S

2 1 1 3 1 1 1

The gradings run from one to five and a man's "Pulhems" chart will show at a glance exactly in what way he can be fitted into the service.

Advantages of the system are outlined as follows:

1. It gives a much more detailed description of the man and thus serves as a more adequate guide to his fitness for the army.

2. It is expected to eliminate loss of men for Canada or overseas duty resulting from the previous system of generalized medical grading.

3. It will facilitate the placing of men in the type of duty for which they are best suited.

One important change to be effected when the Pulhems plan becomes general will be that a man will no longer be able to enlist in the branch of the service he prefers. His Pulhems profile will be the determining factor in his assignment. Reclassification under the system will result in the transfer of men already in the army from one branch to another and will speed up the objective placing the proverbial square peg in the square hole.

Not many men previously rejected outright by the army will be affected, but it will undoubtedly send many men overseas who are now serving in Canada under a low category.

Immediate plans call for the Pulhems system being applied to all draftees and volunteers; eventually it will be extended to every man in the army.

Men and Clothiers See Hope for Return Of Pants With Cuffs

Lifting the ban on cuffs on trousers in the United States has raised the hopes of Victoria men and clothiers, but apparently Ottawa has taken the stand that the public should stop worrying about cuffs and should show a little concern about pants.

Victoria salesmen of readymade pants report they have a "kick" made every time they sell a pair of pants without cuffs.

Cutting of unfinished pant leg lengths to 35 inches on the inside seam has been a Victorian particularly hard, one clothier reported, because the average height of men here is greater than elsewhere in Canada. He reported a number of customers had been forced to have trousers made to order because the readymade products were too short for their long legs.

Although every inch of material cut away in finishing pant legs is returned to the factories to be unravelled and made into blankets for soldiers, clothiers suggested keeping the trouser length at 35 inches but permitting cuffs if there was enough material available.

THE RESULT OF SUCH A POLICY
The result of such a policy would be that short men would have cuffs but tall men would go cuffless.

The non-cuff policy of the government saves 160 square inches of cloth, per pair of pants as manufacturers formerly made the unfinished leg length 39 or more inches.

Clothiers reported this saving as "astounding" but did not think the use of the left-over from finishing 35-inch trouser legs without cuffs was worthwhile.

DEMAND PLEATS
An increasing percentage of Victoria men are buying their pants without finished legs now, clothiers said, apparently to have their wives finish the pants with cuffs. The government order says, however, no person shall put cuffs on trousers.

As summer approaches clothiers are receiving more and more complaints for pleated trouser legs, banned by the government. While zipper trouser fronts are in demand, there is nothing to stop a manufacturer using zippers instead of buttons—if he can get the zippers.

Meanwhile, clothiers report shirts are becoming scarce, many stores have no overalls, the service raincoat situation is critical (eight of 11 cloth shipments from England having been lost last fall), and the general clothes situation becoming more and more restricted as to colors, types of cloth and design of clothing.

Stocks in Victoria appear to be holding up at the present, but unless more stock is made available, clothiers feel rationing will be the ultimate solution.

W. Leslie, facing two charges of obtaining money by false pretenses, was remanded until Wednesday when he appeared in city police court today. The adjournment was asked by his counsel, P. J. Sinnott.

Guilty of Giving Indian Rub Alcohol

Robert Burns Miller of the Veterans' Guard pleaded guilty in city police court today of supplying an intoxicant, rubbing alcohol, to an Indian. He was held in custody today for sentence Friday.

Sgt. Roy Woolsey said he had seen the accused Tuesday evening with three Indians. Miller had with him a bottle of soft drink and the four of them had a drink in Theatre Alley.

Then Miller took from an inside pocket a bottle of rubbing alcohol, and poured half of it into the soft drink bottle.

The sergeant reported one of the Indians as saying: "You're making the mixture too strong," and Miller replying: "I know how to mix this."

After that the three Indians each had drinks from the bottle. Miller said he knew nothing about the incident, his mind for that period being a complete blank.

As he remanded the case Magistrate H. C. Hall said: "The effect of giving anyone, particularly an Indian, this may have serious physical and mental effects."

Charges of having liquor in their possession, laid against the Indians, were dismissed.

Repatriated Men Aided at Lisbon

When exchange of British and Italian prisoners took place recently the British colony did wonderful work in easing the lot of the 400 or so British soldiers, many of them wounded, as they passed through Lisbon, Portugal, en route to England.

Although a year and a half has elapsed since Mrs. Bonnie Holmes, Canadian girl and wife of the commercial manager of the Anglo-Portuguese Telephone Company, left Lisbon, she is kept in constant touch with events as they break at Lisbon, neutral crossroads of the European theatre. With her two daughters, Maureen 12 and Sheelagh 8, Mrs. Holmes has been staying with her mother at Vancouver since reaching Canada from Portugal.

She arrived in Victoria Wednesday afternoon for a short visit here and is staying at the Empress Hotel.

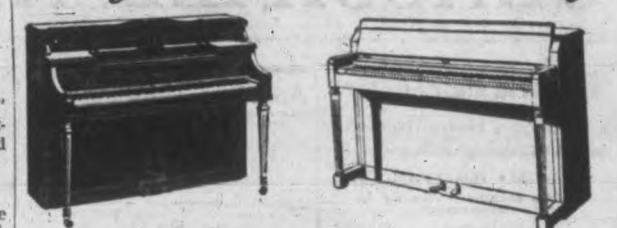

"My husband told me in his last letter how the members of the British Club entertained the soldiers and provided medical aid for the wounded when they arrived in Lisbon from the Italian prison camps," said Mrs. Holmes.

"The British boys were most grateful for the wonderful treatment they received at the hands of the British colony," she said. "The plight of the wounded men was greatly eased by the temporary hospitalization they received at the point of exchange."

"The unconquerable spirit displayed by the repatriated men, my husband told me, was marvelous."

Mrs. Holmes, after meeting friends here, will return to her children in Vancouver where she plans to remain for the duration.

Cluster Light Globes May Go

Victoria's decorative cluster lighting system may follow trouser cuffs and other features of adornment that have gone the way of the unnecessary in the city's wartime economy.

Meeting today, the electric light committee decided to recommend to the council storage of cluster light shades not in use under existing lighting arrangements until the war is over. If the council accepts the suggestion, all but two of the bowls will be stripped from each of the downtown light standards and placed in storage, leaving the two dim-capped bulbs only on the poles.

The committee admits the poles will present a ragged appearance, but the change will save the city money.

Replacement of the system with a modern light is considered as a postwar undertaking.

Cost of building shelves to house the existing unused 3,000 12 and 14-inch globes will be $210.

The committee delayed action on a tender of $1,536 for 500 extra globes that would be needed as replacements if the bulbs are retained unused on the standards.

Acceptance of E. Peatt's bid of $528 to supply the city with 40 poles 40 feet long will be recommended to the council, as will purchase of $1,270 worth of different sized lamps from Murphy Electric Co., Northern Electric Co. Ltd., Cox Electrical Construction Co., and McLennan, McFeely & Prior Ltd.

Housing Returns

"Not all the 18,000 forms submitted to Victoria householders in the housing registration have been returned," said Mrs. W. Rayfuse, head of the Housing Registry, today, as the deadline fell on which the forms should have been turned in.

Mrs. Rayfuse said that unless the returns were submitted, as required by government orders, within the next few days, householders would be liable to penalty.

She pointed out that submission of the forms does not necessarily mean that householders will be required to take in a stranger.

"Even if they signified willingness to give accommodation to someone, they would have full freedom of choice as to who it should be," said Mrs. Rayfuse.

Gets Around By-law

By moving his auto three car lengths, Robert T. Hoard, 530 Beach Drive, got out of a fine for parking more than two hours May 20 on Fort Street between Government and Wharf.

Magistrate H. C. Hall warned, however: "After all, moving a car three lengths doesn't help very much. The street is not intended as a parking place. You have avoided technically the by-law."

Ten other motorists paid $2.50 each for overparking.

Vancouver Gets Potatoes

While Victoria waits for a let-up in the potato shortage, news from Vancouver indicates that city has had some relief and that its potato shortage appears over with the arrival today of the first of a huge crop from the Fraser Valley.

A load of California potatoes arrived in Victoria this morning, but no locals have as yet appeared on the market. Until they do the present shortage will continue.

Jack Benny Guided
By 'Test Pilots'

Jack Benny numbers among his employees a couple of "test pilots" named Moe and Joe, who have the final say on his material, whether it be a little gag or an entire motion picture script.

If Moe laughs, Jack throws the stuff out; if Joe laughs, it sticks. The reason is that Moe, according to Benny, is always at odds with the general public's taste. He is said to be the only man alive who laughed when he saw "Over the Hill to the Poorhouse" and he howled himself sick at "Rebecca."

Joe, on the other hand, is a man of the people. What he likes everybody likes.

Jack Benny considers this system of checks and balances an infallible guarantee against "egg-laying." Their latest "test flight" was the script of the "Meanest Man in the World," which opens at the Dominion Theatre. The hilarious comedy co-stars Priscilla Lane and features Edmund Gwenn, Anne Revere and Helene Reynolds.

Sidney Lanfield directed and William Perleberg produced the film.

Judy Garland
As Irish Colleen

The training of today's modern metropolitan police forces became graphically dramatic when every detail of the education of a policeman, from the "rookie" stage to the finished product, was depicted for a film sequence. This sequence, showing the transformation of George Murphy from civilian to officer, is one of the highlights of "Little Nellie Kelly," Judy Garland's first solo starring vehicle, coming today to the York Theatre.

Based on George M. Cohan's stage hit, the story deals with a little Irish colleen in New York where her father becomes a policeman. Murphy and a group of a hundred players figure in the episode. It starts with his application, appointment as a recruit, physical examination, training and gymnasium work, and includes target practice and marksmanship instruction, school of regulations, law and criminology, all taught the modern youth who essays a police career.

CAPITOL THEATRE

Thirteen changes of costume, each one more glamorous than the last, is the score Mary Martin funs up in her newest Paramount comedy with music, "Happy Go Lucky," now at the Capitol Theatre. Collectively, Mary's wardrobe represents a veritable rainbow of color, none of which is lost in the screen translation, since "Happy Go Lucky" is a Technicolor film.

Others starred in the picture are Betty Hutton and Eddie Bracken, who contribute songs and comedy to the very lively occasion. There are five hit-tunes in the picture.

Woodwork responds to SHEEN Polish. Get it at Gonzales Grocery.

DOMINION — "Meet the Stewarts," starring William Holden and Frances Dee.

OAK BAY PLAZA — "Lady of Burlesque," starring Barbara Stanwyck.

Starlets Featured
In Musical Film

Stardom, coveted goal of all motion picture players, has been attained by three of Universal's most promising "teen-agers" — Gloria Jean, Peggy Ryan and Donald O'Connor.

All three have stellar billing in "When Johnny Comes Marching Home," timely romantic musical film now showing at the Cadet Theatre.

Other stars of the picture include Allan Jones, Jane Frazee, the Four Step Brothers and Phil Spitalny and his Hour of Charm all girl orchestra.

Lamour, Goddard, Lake in Musical

Glamour gives itself a terrific ribbing in Paramount's great musical comedy, "Star Spangled Rhythm," which comes tomorrow to the Atlas Theatre, and the ribbing is done by none other than three of Hollywood's most glamorous glamour girls — Dorothy Lamour, Paulette Goddard and Veronica Lake!

The three lovelies poke fun at their own glamour trade-marks in a number entitled "A Sweater, a Sarong and a Peek-a-boo Bang." It is all about three unhappy maidens of the silver screen who came out to Hollywood to emote, and are burdened down with those mantles of allure—sweater, sarong and seductive hair-do.

Barbier's Fall
Opened Career

Falling all over oneself the first time on a stage would be enough to end anyone's professional career, but for George Barbier it was just a start. In his professional debut with a light opera company, Barbier, who is now in 20th Century-Fox's "Marry the Boss's Daughter," at the Rio Theatre, was one notch above a spear carrier—he was a wine goblet carrier. His job was to bring on the wine during a scene depicting a royal banquet. Unfortunately, he tripped—and instead of presenting the wine to the king, he poured it over the queen.

3 Die in Car Crash

KITCHENER, Ont. (CP) —

Three members of the R.C.A.F. were killed Wednesday night and a fourth, LAC. Alfred Tomkins of Minnet Point, Ont., was brought to a hospital here with injuries, as a result of an automobile accident on the Kitchener-Waterloo highway.

The car, driven by LAC. Tomkins, left the highway at a curve and plunged 190 feet and crashed into a dam at Breslau on the Grand River. Citizens of Breslau rescued the men from the overturned vehicle, which lay in two and a half feet of water.

B.C. Air Graduates
Now Control Traffic
At Big New Airport

GOOSE AIRPORT, Labrador (CP) — Construction officials speculate that this might have been a United States base if Eric (Jack) Fry of the Dominion Geodetic Survey had been a few days later picking out the site in 1941. An American, now a colonel in the U.S. army air forces in north Africa, scouted the area by plane—just after Fry looked over the natural sand-pile on which the base is built and commented to his native companions: "It's a natural."

Three officers who took the special flying control and radio course at Patricia Bay, B.C., direct the air traffic in and out of Goose. The senior flying control officer is FO. William E. Butler of Richmond, Ont., and the others are FO. R. A. J. (Rajah) Thomas of Westmont, Que., and FO. T. C. Cummings of North Bay, Ont.

Cummings is the station artist and his quarters are lined with paintings—finished and otherwise—of native types he has found around Goose airport. A commercial artist before he joined the R.C.A.F., one of his neatest bits of work is the big wooden panel he made for the R.C.A.F. officers' mess—three Eskimo figures and a husky dog, drawn in barest outline by scratching in the wood and filling the cuts with dark color.

Every few days the Winnipegger who commands an R.C.A.F. transport squadron at an eastern Canadian airport, personally flies a trip to Goose for a chat with the Minnedosa, Man., officer who commands the base. "A little talk with him is the best way to find out some of the little things the lads would like to have. We throw a few parcels on top of the normal freight and it helps keep the boys happy."

Just names: Flt. Sgt. Jack Brennan of Halifax is disciplinarian at Goose. Signals officer is FO. Beverly Beck of Toronto. FO. Robert Gillis of Regina and Ottawa is assistant adjutant. You'll find Sgt. Jim Watts of Toronto in the orderly room; Sgt. Norm MacLeod of Toronto looking after the stores; Sgt. Herb Forbes of Montreal looking after the guns; and FO. Thomas Côté of Pembroke, Ont., giving the R.C.A.F. personnel physical training and drill.

Rev. H. B. Ketchen

Church Moderator

HAMILTON, Ont. (CP)—Rev. H. Beverley Ketchen, Hamilton, was elected moderator of the Presbyterian Church in Canada at the opening session of the 69th General Assembly here Wednesday night.

A graduate of the University of Toronto and of Knox College, Dr. Ketchen has been minister of the MacNab Street Presbyterian Church here for 37 years. Born and raised on a farm in Brant County, he is married and has three children.

Rev. Norman A. MacLeod, Brockville, Ont., retiring Moderator, officiated as the General Assembly began its session with some 200 ministers and elders present, representing the 48 presbyteries throughout Canada and Newfoundland.

Plans Complete to Meet
Flood Emergency

Department of Lands has made all arrangements should a flood emergency in the Fraser Valley arise, Hon. A. Wells Gray, Minister of Lands said today.

"The freshest is now on the river gauge at Mission showed the Fraser rose from 10.45 feet on Thursday to 12.1 feet on Monday," the minister said.

Telling of plans to meet a possible emergency, the minister said: "From various sources we have been able to locate 40,000 sacks which will be available, if

Pianist to Examine

BORIS BERLIN

Boris Berlin, for many years a member of the teaching faculty and the board of examiners of the Toronto Conservatory of Music, will conduct examinations for the Conservatory in Victoria June 8 to 11.

At an early age, Mr. Berlin began his life-long study of the piano in his native Russia. Later he continued his studies in Germany and Switzerland where he attended Geneva University and the Geneva Conservatory of Music. Among his teachers were such famous masters as Mark Hambourg and Leonid Kreutzer. Since coming to Canada, he has established himself as an outstanding and original teacher of piano-playing. Mr. Berlin is the author and co-author of a number of educational works in connection with piano teaching.

Canadians Wearing
Shackles 'With Pride
And Buoyancy'

TORONTO — Some 2,800 out of the 60,000 British and Canadian prisoners confined in Germany are still wearing shackles on their hands, 13 hours daily, but they are "wearing them with pride and buoyancy, as if a badge of honor," says a special cable from Stockholm to the Toronto Star.

Information reaching this correspondent from private channels reveals that the shackled men, as well as other Allied prisoners in Germany, are in the highest spirits this week over the north African news, which has penetrated to them by grapevine. At the same time, the German people are showing the strain of the intensive Allied bombing, although there is no evidence of a crack-up.

The shackled Britishers and Canadians have acquired amazing agility in eating, handshaking and even playing soccer while wearing their finger-sized chains from 8 a.m. to 9 p.m. The chains' spread is enough to permit the men to put their hands in their pockets. The men designated for the shuffling, in reprisal for the Dieppe raid, have developed unusual fortitude and take the greatest pride in showing their captors that their spirit cannot be broken.

OAK BAY AND PLAZA THEATRE
Barbara Stanwyck and Michael O'Shea spend few serious romantic moments in the colorful story of burlesque life (chilled only by two daring murders), "Lady of Burlesque," which is now showing at the Oak Bay and Plaza Theatres through United Artists release. Supporting players include J. Charles Bromberg, Charles Dingle, Gloria Dixon, Frank Conroy and Marion Martin.

required, for filling with sand to strengthen dikes against heavy pressure."

The minister said there has been a run-out from the Kamloops hills in recent days and if this continues there will be less possibilities of serious floods in that area.

Judy Garland
As Irish Colleen

The training of today's modern metropolitan police forces became graphically dramatic when every detail of the education of a policeman, from the "rookie" stage to the finished product, was depicted for a film sequence. This sequence, showing the transformation of George Murphy from civilian to officer, is one of the highlights of "Little Nellie Kelly," Judy Garland's first solo starring vehicle, coming today to the York Theatre.

Based on George M. Cohan's stage hit, the story deals with a little Irish colleen in New York where her father becomes a policeman. Murphy and a group of a hundred players figure in the episode. It starts with his application, appointment as a recruit, physical examination, training and gymnasium work, and includes target practice and marksmanship instruction, school of regulations, law and criminology, all taught the modern youth who essays a police career.

CAPITOL THEATRE

Thirteen changes of costume, each one more glamorous than the last, is the score Mary Martin funs up in her newest Paramount comedy with music, "Happy Go Lucky," now at the Capitol Theatre. Collectively, Mary's wardrobe represents a veritable rainbow of color, none of which is lost in the screen translation, since "Happy Go Lucky" is a Technicolor film.

Others starred in the picture are Betty Hutton and Eddie Bracken, who contribute songs and comedy to the very lively occasion. There are five hit-tunes in the picture.

New Air Service to Whitehorse

British Columbia was given direct air connections with the Yukon, along one of the western hemisphere's main air defence routes, when Canadian Pacific Air Lines operated its first through plane from Vancouver to Whitehorse. New service which eliminates change of plane at Fort St. John, is daily except Sundays and requires larger planes, 14-passenger Lockheed Lodestars, and a greatly increased staff at Vancouver. In addition to regular service to northern British Columbia and the Yukon, scheduled routes are operated from Vancouver to Victoria, Zeballos and Port Alice by Canadian Pacific Air Lines, 90 per cent of whose work is in the interest of the war effort. Above, passengers board the plane at Sea Island airport for the inaugural trip.

Posthumous Honor For Leslie Cook Far North Flier

Canadian flier Leslie Cook, recognized by the American government for a dangerous flight and the saving of the life of a soldier, was awarded the United States Air Medal, only to lose his own life a month later.

Flying for the Northern Airways, "Les" Cook pioneered the Atlin-Juneau run, the short-cut route to the coast, overcoming weather hazards and red-tape customs regulations—through perseverance—won permission to land passengers from the Canadian side, and for two years carried hundreds of passengers out the Yukon to Juneau, where they took a boat for Vancouver and Seattle. Flying a four-passenger Waco ship he handled this run himself, while the other fliers preferred the other sky lanes. Passengers were flown from Dawson and Mayo to Atlin in a Fairchild, and Cook took over to Juneau.

Once he made a forced landing, and picked the only bit of flat land for miles, and safely brought his plane and passengers down. The passengers were brought out by dog teams, and the plane flown out later by Cook himself. Flying ships out of tight corners was his specialty. His flying partner, Art Burt, was forced down on a small lake once and unable to take off. Les flew in and tied the plane to a stump while he gave the engine the gas and had someone cut the rope with an axe, and off he flew, skimming the treetops at the far end of the lake.

The northern annals of aviation are full of epic trips made by Les Cook, and on many occasions took off in storms and landed on lakes hardly frozen, to bring aid to sick and injured. Another of his feats that brought the Yukon into the limelight, was when he pioneered the Whitehorse-Vancouver run, bidding for the mail contract, and proving the feasibility of the run. Single handed Les Cook did more for Canadian aviation in the north than any other flier or company. During the construction and survey of the Alaska Highway he flew officers and engineers over the proposed routes, and his name will also go down as one of the builders of that great highway. A builder of airways and highways—his feats will live in the hearts and minds of the people of the great northland.

Britain's Anti-Sub Fleet Totals 600

LONDON (CP)—A. J. McWhinnie, the Daily Herald's correspondent, wrote today that Germany has failed in its attempt to make losses in Britain's merchant tonnage so heavy that building of anti-submarine warships would have to be sacrificed for freighters.

"Britain alone has something like 600 anti-submarine warships today, including new frigates and trawlers," he said. "Despite losses we have about 300 destroyers against 185 when the war began and more than 200 corvettes which didn't exist in 1939."

The London Daily Express in its Thursday edition estimated the number of submarines sunk during May at 18 to 20 and "possibly a figure even higher than

Aircraft Carrier Launched at Tacoma

TACOMA (AP)—The United States aircraft carrier Nanticoke slid down the ways here Wednesday, bringing the total launchings of the Seattle-Tacoma Shipbuilding Corporation to 41.

This paper's naval reporter, W. A. Crumley, said the exact figures on the current German submarine production were unavailable but it was estimated at from 16 to 20 monthly at its peak in April, 1942. He added that the submarine fleet available for operations against the Allies was at least 500.

No Priorities Promise For B.C. Steel Mill

VANCOUVER—A B.C. delegation failed this week to win a promise of priorities for a local steel rolling mill from Hon. C. D. Howe, Minister of Munitions and Supply, according to word received from the national capital.

"Just another evasion," commented Alderman Jack Price, chairman of the semi-public committee fostering the project. "We merely wanted Mr. Howe to say he would facilitate the undertaking if the finances were put up." (Hon. E. C. Carson, Minister of Mines, is at present in Ottawa and is pressing for establishment of a steel mill on this coast. He is being joined in talks with the federal government by R. W. Mayhew, M.P., who has long been asking that Ottawa do something to get such an industry started on the B.C. coast.)

BANK OF ENGLAND

LONDON (CP)—The weekly condition statement of the Bank of England for week ended June 2, reported an increase of £1,464,000 in note circulation. Private deposits were off £32,817,000, and government securities decreased £20,220,000. These losses were partly offset by gains of £14,019,000 in public deposits and almost £3,000,000 in other securities.

The proportion of the bank's reserve to liabilities this week was 26.1 per cent, compared with 20.7 the same week last year. Electrical insulating tape made of woven cellulose acetate has demonstrated marked superiority over some tapes previously used.

New York Stocks

NEW YORK (AP)—Motors and other selected peace stocks moved up in today's market although many leaders elsewhere lingered in the losing column. Assorted favorites posted one to three-year highs with gains of fractions to two points. Transfers topped 1,000,000 shares.

Belief that the coal labor controversy was verging on settlement inspired a little bidding and short covering, brokers said. Reluctance of customers to extend commitments was blamed partly on the desire to await tax developments.

Among Canadian issues Canadian Pacific was unchanged while Dome Mines and Lake Shore gained fractions of a point.

Grain

WINNIPEG (CP)—Wheat futures closed 1/2 to 1 cent a bushel higher today on the Winnipeg Grain Exchange following a quiet session. July finished at 1.00 1/2. Scattered purchases during the session were attributed to southern interests, locals and mills. Sale of Canadian wheat to the United Kingdom were in excess of 1,000,000 bushels.

A fair-sized quantity of No. 1 and No. 2 northern and smaller amounts of other grades were taken in the cash wheat market.

Demand continued for oats and barley with odd cars traded for rail shipment east. New seasonal highs were reached in rye with the October future touching 89 cents, the best price in five and a half years.

There was no trading in oats and barley with prices remaining at the ceiling level.

Country marketings yesterday amounted to 732,000 bushels compared to 344,000 bushels last year.

$10,000,000 Paid

WASHINGTON (AP)—Gen. Henri Giraud has sent another cheque to the lend-lease administration as part payment for essential civilian supplies sent to French north Africa by the United States.

It is for $10,000,000. A cheque for $15,000,000 was received late in April.

In announcing the receipt of the second cheque Wednesday, lend-lease chief, Edward R. Stettinius, said essential civilian supplies, including medicine, food, and clothing, sent so far to north Africa by this country, had an approximate value of $35,000,000.

Call for Feed Grain

TORONTO (CP)—P. D. McArthur, president of the Canadian Dairy Farmers' Association, said here a drastic shortage in a number of table foods would result unless the federal government took steps to facilitate the movement of feed grain from the prairies. He spoke at a meeting of the Ontario Milk Producers' Association.

R. J. Scott, president of the Ontario Farmers' Co-operative Company, said something should be done to transport the feed grain by rail, or production of hogs, poultry and other stock would be affected.

Dorothy Dix:

Dear Miss Dix: My husband is subject to be called into the army any day now. But he says before he goes he is going to sell our furniture and get rid of our home. He says he is going to be a free man again. Don't you think that as long as he feels this way about it, it would be best for us to break up now before he goes away? We have two children. What of them?

J. J.

MOTHER SHOULD KEEP HOME FIRES BURNING

Answer: Your husband is like a lot of other men who are fed up, for the time being, with domesticity. He thinks he is going to have a grand fling in the army, but he is due to get a lot of disillusionment about that. When he finds that he is subject to a discipline that he never even imagined, he is going to wish that he was back home with you and the children.

My earnest advice to you is just to stay put. He can't sell your home unless you sign the deed. Refuse to do it. Tell him you are going to live in it and keep it a going concern until he can come back. The government will pay you your allotment of his salary, so you will have that much to help feed the children, anyway, whereas you would have nothing if you agreed to a divorce before he goes.

Many husbands, and wives, too, get tired of the monotony of marriage and think they want to be free and rush into the divorce courts, but after they have been parted for a while they find that their freedom is not what they thought it would be; that they miss each other and that they love each other in spite of their disagreements.

I think that is the case with you and your husband. So just let matters rock along for the duration. With your own home and your allotment and perhaps doing a little work on the outside you can get along, but you would be stranded if you let him sell the house and the furniture and left you with nowhere to go and nothing to live on.

'Jimmy' Sinclair Now in Tunisia

Written for the Canadian Press By F. L. Ken MacGillivray

SOMEWHERE IN TUNISIA (CP)—An R.C.A.F. fighter squadron in the Middle East has the distinction of possessing as its adjutant the only member of the Canadian House of Commons on active service in this theatre of war—F. L. James Sinclair, 35, Liberal M.P. for Vancouver North.

Sinclair, cheated by the calendar out of a pilot's career when he passed the maximum age just before being called for his "military," has made a marked success of the administrative side of the air force.

Rhodes scholar, mining engineer and surprise Liberal winner of the traditionally C.C.F. seat of North Vancouver in the 1940 federal election, Sinclair served successively as adjutant of stations at Jericho Beach, B.C.; Patricia Bay, B.C., and Dauphin, Man., before going to England, where he acted as adjutant of two R.C.A.F. squadrons in turn.

Subsequently he became officer commanding a wing at an R.C.A.F. reception depot in the south of England, and was promoted to squadron leader, only to relinquish that rank when he volunteered for his present job with the R.C.A.F. operational fighter unit in the Middle East. The squadron is commanded by Sqdn. Ldr. F. B. (Brad) Foster of Montreal.

F. L. Sinclair, a native of Scotland, was married shortly before leaving Canada, and has a baby daughter whom he has never seen. His home is at 2362 Ottawa Avenue, West Vancouver. Some years ago he lived in Victoria, where he was secretary to the then Minister of Mines, W. J. Assestine.

Overseas League will meet at the Empress Hotel Monday at 2.30, when the guest speaker will be Lady Swettenham, on "Reminiscences of Jamaica."

Cow Tree Provides 'Milk' for Natives and Travelers

Judging by their names, certain trees could provide us with a meal of a common, everyday type. We might have bread from the breadfruit tree, sausage from the sausage tree, butter from the butter tree, and milk from the milk tree.

The fact is that not all of those trees are as good as their names. The sausage tree, for example, fails to provide ready-made sausages for people to pick! The fruits look like sausages, but they do not taste like the sausages we buy at a meat market.

Breadfruit trees come close to living up to their name. The fruit can be baked and turned into a valuable food. To a large extent this fruit takes the place of bread on islands of the South Seas.

That there should be a "cow tree" is a freak of Nature. Yet there are trees known by that name, and they provide a kind of milk which people can drink.

Cow trees grow in the warmer parts of South America, also in Central America. One kind is found in New Zealand.

Let a person cut into the bark of a cow tree, and soon there will come flowing out a white juice which looks like milk. This juice can be caught in a glass or other container, and it makes a drink which tastes something like milk.

The milky juice of the cow tree is used in the regions where it grows. Foreign travelers as well as natives, have drunk it without suffering any ill effects.

If mixed with several parts of water, and boiled, the juice will rise to the top and can be skimmed off. The part skimmed from the top can be used in tea or coffee in much the same way as we add cream to those drinks.

The juice is a form of "latex," and if properly treated it will make a rubbery substance. Sometimes, after boiling, it is employed to caulk up the holes and cracks in boats.

Cow trees also have the name of "milk trees." They were first described to the outside world 145 years ago by Alexander von Humboldt, a scientist and writer. The fruit of the cow tree is good to eat. It is sweet and pleasant tasting.

Labor Queries Alberta Spud Glut, Scarcity in B.C.

Establishment of an interprovincial reciprocal agreement whereby foodstuffs plentiful in one province would be made available to people of another was urged by delegates to the Victoria and District Trades and Labor Council meeting Wednesday night.

The action was advocated following reports potatoes were plentiful in Alberta, while B.C. cities suffered a potato famine, presumably because exchange machinery was lacking between the two provinces. While B.C. lacked potatoes and Alberta reportedly had vast supplies of the vegetable, this province let fruit rot on trees which would have been readily received in Alberta, delegates said.

The discussion arose from an appeal by the Emergency Farm Labor Service to the labor council seeking assistance and support for the farm army. Working conditions and pay rates will be studied by the council.

Mrs. P. Rayment, representative to the local advisory board of the Wartime Prices and Trades Board, reported on an interview with Mrs. Christine White, Ottawa, on price matters, expressed appreciation of Mrs. White's sincerity and advocated formation of women's auxiliaries to all labor councils to assist in price stabilization.

LISTING LABOR BOARDS
In reply to the labor group's request, Hon. Humphrey Mitchell, Minister of Labor, wrote the council stating a full list of labor representatives on war boards was being compiled and would be forwarded shortly.

Confusion was created by a letter from a federal government official asking why he had received a letter from W. Gennoe, Moulders International, citing instances in which castings were shipped to Victoria from eastern Canada which could have been made here. The information from the local union member had previously been sought by the federal official.

The council forwarded a resolution to the National War Labor Board asking one week's holiday with pay be granted to employees at the Naval Dockyard, Esquimalt.

Early submission of resolutions from local unions for the Trades and Labor Congress of Canada convention next September was urged by Chas. Peck.

C. Chivers, trades council president, reporting on efforts to have food store workers classed as members of an essential industry, said local selective service officials had wide powers in such matters and that he had been assured no disruption would occur in the local food industry.

The council made arrangements to meet the city transportation committee next Wednesday evening at 8 to discuss matters of concern to both.

Endorsement was given a motion from V. Midgely seeking full dependents' allowance for families of men in the reserve army for the period during which the reserve men are in annual summer camp. Ottawa will be notified of the motion and support of the Labor Congress of Canada will be sought.

W. H. Martindale, Electricians' International; F. D. Taylor, Sheet Metal Workers; and J. R. Begg, Typographical Union, were seated as delegates.

Ottawa Denies Canadians Slighted At Washington

TORONTO—Integration of war action by Britain, Canada and the United States has reached a new peak as a result of the Washington conferences from which Premier King recently returned, says the Toronto Star in a special Ottawa dispatch.

The signs are that the Churchill-Roosevelt talks, in which Mr. King participated in important measure for several days, will prove to be a larger Casablanca conference with even more devastating results for the Axis. One thing appears certain, Britain, Canada and the United States are in complete harmony on vast plans for future conduct of the war.

It is known that the tripartite discussions proceeded on the friendliest terms. Problems which might have proved a disrupting influence were completely solved on mutually satisfactory terms and full agreement exists on all aspects of the struggle.

This time Mr. King took a larger part than in either of the earlier two Churchill-Roosevelt-King war meetings. This means that Canada's voice has become more influential than ever in international decisions plotting out the course of great Allied offensives expected to bring major victories in the near future.

A semi-official statement that harmony marked the Washington meetings of Churchill, Roosevelt and King is timely now. Because of misinterpretation of small program changes between the three men, rumors were current in Washington that the Canadian delegates were offended by the official treatment they received. Nothing could be more untrue. The exact contrary is the case.

It was said, for example, that the appearance of satisfaction that prevailed during the conferences was a facade concealing some important rifts; that Premier King and Canadian chiefs of staffs thought they had been slighted and not sufficient weight given their counsel. Those in a position to know are aware that there is no slightest basis in fact for these reports; that the complete opposite is the case.

"No visit was ever more satisfactory from every point of view," Mr. King stated publicly on his return to Ottawa. From high and reliable information it is known that this assertion truly represents the viewpoint of the Canadians at the conference, including the minister of national defence and the staff heads of the army, navy and R.C.A.F.

Mr. King dined alone several times with Messrs. Churchill and Roosevelt and was with them both almost constantly during his days in Washington. He was, for a good part of the time, a guest at the White House. The Canadian chiefs of staff were given every opportunity for full consultation with their "opposite numbers" of Britain and the United States. There was no difference of views that was not fully and amicably settled to the satisfaction of the war leaders of the three nations.

Ask City Men Spend Hayfield Holidays

Appeal to men to register for work in the hayfields is being Emergency Farm Labor Service by the Dominion-Provincial vice this week.

A milk shortage threatens the metropolitan areas of Vancouver Island and the mainland unless large numbers of office workers, clerks and others engaged in urban industries find some way of helping in the hayfields, officials say, after a series of interviews with island farmers. They urge city workers devote their holidays and week-ends, where possible, to helping relieve the farm labor shortage.

Already many of the island dairy herds have been reduced, not so much from the lack of help at milking time, as from the lack of help in the fields, farmers reported.

Officials said that throughout the island women are responding well to the call for help on the farms, and though slower than men on some tasks, have proved thorough and conscientious. Haying, however, is still considered to be a man's job, though women have invaded most other fields on the farm.

The service praised the work of the Women's Land Army organized in the Duncan-Cowichan area by Mrs. T. H. Kingscot, and now serving under the Dominion-Provincial Emergency Farm Labor Service. Altogether 96 women enlisted and have been meeting hoeing and planting needs, and those who could not work in the fields have looked after homes and children to release volunteers for field duty.

So far
